

ACT FOR BRITISH MINE PEACE

TOMORROW TO PEACE POLICYHarding's Message
Eagerly Awaited.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 10.—(Special.)—While the message President Harding will read to congress on Tuesday will be devoted mainly to domestic reconstruction policies, which he has of paramount importance to the world, the attention of the world will be turned upon his utterances concerning the peace program he contemplates.

The president has completed the rough draft of his message, which will be sent and sent to the printer tomorrow. He is scheduled to appear before a joint session of the two houses at 10 p. m. Tuesday.

There is great curiosity throughout the capital as to final decisions reached by the executive on the peace program.

Both Sides Confident.

The irreconcilables are confident the president will make clear his complete intention to restore peace with any by some such process as that of the League of Nations.

Representatives of a separate peace with Germany are equally confident he will make a course for eventual ratification of the treaty with reservations.

Washington American adherence from the League of Nations covenant and the peace terms proper as to involve the United States politically in European affairs.

The only point on which there is general agreement is that the Wilsonian dream of the league of nations will be rejected. There also is general expectation that the president will favor the cooperation of the United States with European nations in the stabilization of world peace.

Harding's Stand Uncertain.

Mr. Harding has been disabused to any important respect from the course of action to which he has committed early last week is a matter of uncertainty tonight. At the time the president expressed the belief that there is no practicable basis for an American peace program in the Versailles covenant, by which he has believed, to mean the entire Versailles treaty, particularly as he also has seen no reason for a reversal of attitude on his part in support of the Knox resolution.

It was pointed out that the Knox resolution was to be made by ratification of the Versailles treaty, even with amendments reaching reservations, would be a marked reversal of attitude on the Knox resolution, for which, in fact, there would be no basis.

Real Treaty Carefully.

The treaty has been examined with great care, for which he voted in favor of the Knox resolution, in a way to leave us in doubt as to the enforcement of practical action but the reparations committee at one time he said that if the Knox resolution was a reasonable basis for a treaty, he would prefer that course.

May Uphold the Allies.

The course of procedure that has been followed in the House is a congressional procedure by an economic conference between the United States and the allies for the settlement of the financial problems in which the payment of the loans to the allies is involved.

It has been suggested that such a conference might lead to a formal understanding between the United States and the allies by which the United States would accept the reparations provisions of the Versailles treaty without underwriting the reparations and other provisions which would involve us politically in European affairs.

Unfriendly Act—Bryan

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 10.—A protest was lodged with Great Britain for the alleged liquor traffic at the Bahamas Islands, as an unfriendly act, William Jennings Bryan said in an address here today.

He said that the proximity of the islands, development of such traffic toward the United States, "hatching conspiracies to break the laws made by a friendly government."

Dry Raiders
Wound Sailor
of Jap Vessel

Jacksonville, Fla., April 10.—One Japanese sailor was seriously wounded and four others were placed under arrest by federal prohibition officers tonight during a raid conducted for whiskey, which, it is said by the authorities, was being smuggled ashore from the Japanese steamer Erie Maru.

According to the officers, they had information that members of the crew would attempt to smuggle liquor through this port and negotiated with some of the sailors to have the contraband delivered to them.

It was brought ashore by sailors tonight, and soon as its delivery was effected the officers moved to place the men under arrest when one of the Japanese opened fire.

Following arrest of the sailors the prohibition officers boarded the steamship and seized twelve cases of liquor in addition to fourteen cases which had been brought ashore.

FROST PERILS
FRUIT CROPS IN THREE STATES

Early Blooms Wiped
Out by Cold.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Fruit growers were dealt another heavy blow in central and southern Illinois yesterday morning when the cold wave swept across their orchards, and the blossoms were covered over with a blanket of snow.

Early fruits suffered severely in some sections. It is believed serious damage was done to the early apples in the southern fruit section, where Chicago's supply of early harvests comes from.

Heavy losses were expected last night in southern Michigan and Northern Indiana. At 6 p. m. the mercury had dropped to 32 degrees and tiny pools of water were freezing under the trees in orchards along the east shore of the lake, according to O. A. D. Baldwin of Bridgman, Mich.

While the thermometer registered around the freezing point in Michigan and Indiana where a two-inch snow fell, the fruit escaped injury Sunday morning. It remained fairly cold throughout the day around the lower end of the lake, and the blossoms were covered with snow until about sundown.

With a clear sky and a sudden drop of the temperature in the early evening, growers east and south of the lake feared big losses.

Blooming Trees Endangered.

Fruit in Michigan was in a dangerous stage for the low temperature. Even as far north as St. Joseph, early cherry, pear, and plum trees were in full bloom, but apples and small fruits, such as strawberries, and raspberries were considered fairly safe.

From Chicago to Cairo many unprotected early gardens perished.

That all early blooming stone fruits are gone in this section is the opinion of J. A. Young of Aurora. In the northern part of Illinois the cherry buds are in the "pink" stage, and buds are not injured by the hard freeze last night would kill them.

Early fruit is so far advanced that when the temperature began to drop last night, they believed that if the temperature went much below freezing a big percentage of the fruit would be killed.

OHIO FRUIT NIPPED.

Toledo, O., April 10.—Snow which began falling yesterday and continued throughout last night, followed by freezing temperature, has menaced the fruit crop in the lower lake region, in the opinion of growers.

Snow in Virginia.

Richmond, Va., April 10.—Snow fell here for several hours this afternoon, establishing a new record for late snow.

EXPERTS' RAIDS
ON CITY FUNDS
PERIL BIG WORKFees Cut $4,890,000
from Bond Money.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

The people of Chicago voted $26,000,000 in bonds to improve Western, Ashland, Ogden avenues, Robey, South Water, and Randolph streets on Nov. 4, 1919.

But when the time for actual construction arrives there will probably be little more than $19,000,000 with which to pay for the city's share of the work.

The enormous fees paid to experts by the city are largely responsible for the big reduction in the fund that will be available. The beneficiaries of the system, which has been developed to an art by the present city administration, and their approximate fees, are as follows:

Expert.	Kind.	Fees.
Frank H. Meese, building	$1,438,831
August J. Lynch, building	1,438,831
Ernest H. Lyons, real estate	671,841
Edward C. Waller Jr., real estate	671,841
Arthur S. Merzold, real estate	671,841

Total.....$4,891,083

These fees alone will reduce the $26,000,000 fund to $21,108,915.

Fabery Corroborates Figures.

That figure can be taken as reasonably correct, for Michael Fabery, president of the board of local improvements, has admitted to newspaper reporters that these experts "will get about $4,800,000."

He has also publicly proclaimed that the buildings involved in the improvements will have a value of approximately $71,907,892. Each of the two building experts is scheduled to receive 2 per cent of the valuation he places upon the structures.

In addition Mr. Fabery has announced that the real estate involved will total $67,184,033. Each of the three real estate experts is scheduled to receive 1 per cent for his services. In addition all these experts receive a per diem fee for appearing in court to testify.

Heavy Discount on Bonds.

Before the work can get far advanced the bonds must be sold. Some of them have already been disposed of. Those sold at public sale brought about 90 cents on the dollar. If all of them are sold at that price there will be a loss of $2,600,000. That sum, plus the expert fees, means a deduction from the $26,000,000 of $7,551,585, leaving a net of $18,448,415 with which to start work.

But this figure will be further reduced, because the special lawyers must get their bit in fees, too, before the actual construction work starts. The reader can make his own estimate of how much the attorneys will consume and use as a guide the fees collected in preparing the mayor's local transportation bill.

The commissioners appointed by the court also get fees, and it will be surprising if some renting experts do not also collect. There was an appropriation for their employment last year, and one will probably be included in the budget when passed this year.

18 2-5 Per Cent of Total Issue.

It will be noted that the fees of the building and real estate experts alone total 18 2-5 per cent of the total bond issue for the improvements. That percentage is to be paid for an incidental service in connection with the improvements.

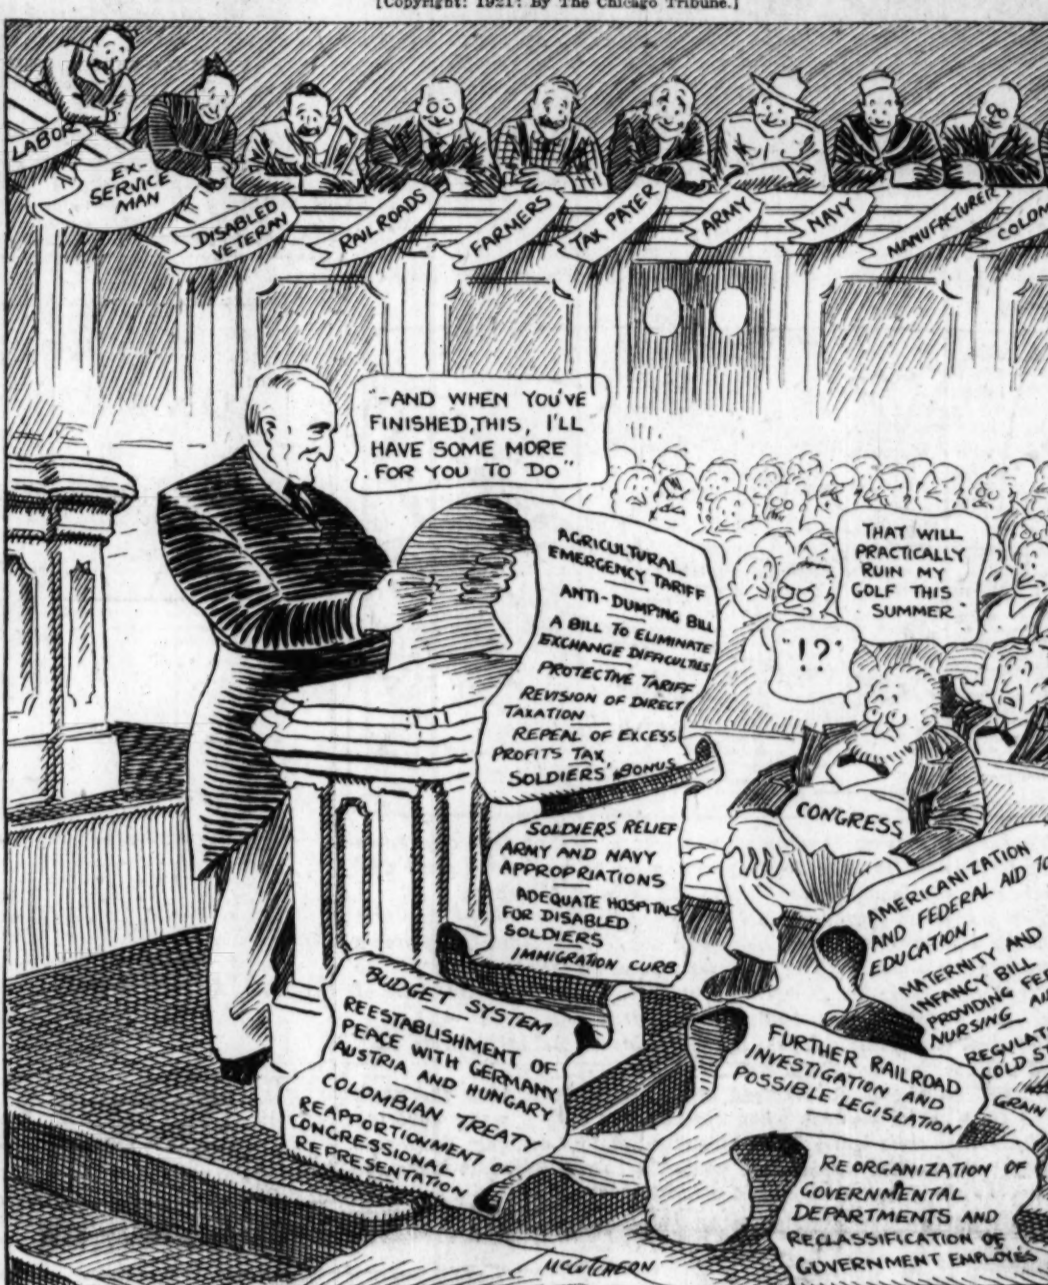

It has been roughly estimated that other improvements being considered by the Chicago plan commission will cost $100,000,000. What the value of the ground and buildings necessary for such big projects would be, is a mere guess; and so it is impracticable to estimate what percentage the experts would obtain of the suggested $100,000,000. It is almost unbelievable that they would get 18 2-5 per cent, or $18,400,000, out of the total—but that is the percentage they are receiving out of the $26,000,000.

YOUTH LEAPS OFF
BROOKLYN BRIDGE TO CAMERA CLICK

New York, April 10.—While motion picture cameras clicked on the deck of a tug in the East river today Daniel Carone, 27, of Mount Vernon, puffing a cigar, leaped from the center of Brooklyn bridge and was picked up in the water 125 feet below, alive and unharmed. It was his second jump from the structure, the first being made in 1915.

Carone's friends on the waiting tug saw his body strike the water. He soon appeared and began to swim toward the tug. In fifty strokes he had reached the craft and was hauled aboard amid cheers.

WHEN THE PRESIDENT READS HIS MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

DIES TO ESCAPE
U. S. WRATH OVER
BEER HE BOUGHT

How a half keg of contraband beer harassed a man to his death was revealed yesterday after the body of London W. Herdich, once a well known politician was found in the Lincoln park 'g' gone opposite Eugene street. He was 59 years old, a jobber in candies and tobacco.

Mr. Herdich disappeared from his home at 4431 North Francisco avenue on March 9. Three days later, notice was received that a government claim for $1,100 which Herdich had been unable to pay had been canceled.

The half keg of beer had been a source of trial to Herdich for nearly two years. This is the story, according to his attorney, Francis Borrelli.

In August, 1919, prohibition authorities confiscated the stock and equipment of the concern's books apparently showed that Herdich, as a former saloonkeeper, had bought a half keg of beer. He was called upon and advised he would have to pay a tax, plus a heavy penalty.

Herdich sought Attorney Borrelli. The latter told him the claim was not a just one, and to ignore it. Mr. Borrelli filed a claim for abatement. Nothing more was heard of the case until four weeks ago. Then Herdich received a summons to the United States marshal's office. He was told he would have to pay the original assessment, plus accrued interest.

With general commercial depression and the difficulty in breaking into a new business late in life, things had not been going well with Herdich.

BOY AND GIRL,
BOTH 15, HELD
AS 'CON' ARTISTS

After a week's appearance in Chicago's gay night whirl, the police last night arrested Miss Anna Gustafson, of 5920 Peoria street and Joseph MaMott of 6003 Throop street, both 15 years old.

Miss Gustafson, a stenographer for Dr. L. Stearn in the Marshall Field Annex building, met MaMott two weeks ago. At the doctor's office the boy is said subsequently to have pocketed a check book.

Miss Gustafson confessed that MaMott then wrote checks which she cashed. The police say she will probably exceed $200.

Near Fifty-ninth and South Halsted street yesterday an employe of Anderson & Jensen, clothing, recognized the girl, who had given him a bad check, and he called the police. The girl was placed in care of her mother. MaMott was held.

CROWD ATTACKS

FLEES TO CHURCH

Kenosha Pastor Hides in Loft from Foes.

More than a thousand excited Italians took possession of the rectory of the Holy Rosary parish in Kenosha yesterday evening after the priest, the Rev. Peter Perardi, his sister, and two others of his household had fled.

The police and the sheriff, William Rouen, found the pastor and the others hidden in the choir loft. They took them to another parish house for protection.

Father Perardi and his congregation had been in conflict for some months. A committee had charged him with mismanagement and had demanded his resignation. The priest's reply was that he had been sent to the parish by Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee and would remain there until the archbishop saw fit to remove him.

Given 48 Hours to Leave.

The committee gave him forty-eight hours to leave the parish, but later decided to wait until the archbishop acted. Archbishop Messmer promised to make an investigation and threatened to excommunicate any one attempting to molest the priest or hinder him in his sacerdotal duties.

Thursday the committee wired the archbishop that unless it heard something definite by Sunday it would take the matter into its own hands.

It was told Father Perardi would read a letter at all masses Sunday morning which was to answer the telegram.

BEN KARPEN AND GIRL HURT WHEN
AUTO HITS CAR

Benjamin Karpen and a woman companion, Mrs. Louise St. Clair, 218 East Forty-second place, were injured when the auto in which they were driving crashed into a street car at Thirty-seventh street and Cottage Grove avenue early this morning. They were taken to the Michael Reese hospital. Karpen is suffering from a possible skull fracture. The woman was only slightly hurt.

Benjamin Karpen is a nephew of Solomon Karpen, founder of S. Karpen & Bros., furniture dealers. On March 17 of this year his wife obtained a divorce from him. A settlement was made in lieu of alimony. Several weeks ago Karpen was adjudged a spendthrift.

Lied to Die in Chair, Elwell
Suspect Says

Buffalo, N. Y., April 10.—(Special.)—With the nonchalance that has characterized his attitude since he "confessed" last Wednesday night that he had participated in the slaying of Joseph Elwell in New York in June last, Roy Harris this afternoon repudiated his story.

He admitted he knew nothing about the crime.

Harris said he conceived the idea of accusing himself of being one of Elwell's slayers in the hope that the state would put him to death and thus rid his wife and their families of further trouble from him.

Trapped by Detective.

Harris' recantation of his murder tale was not volunteered, however, until Detective Sergeant Oswald of New York had trapped him into admitting that his wife was in New York on the night of the Elwell murder and that her story that she was with him all of the night of June 10 and the morning of June 11, when Elwell was found dying, was true.

The task of inducing Harris to repudiate his statement was brought about by a statement made to the detective by Harris' wife after midnight this morning, when in going over her story she suddenly recalled that she had bought a pair of stockings for her husband on his birthday, June 13.

Questioning Gets Truth.

Oswald decided it was time to confront the prisoner with his wife and compel him to tell the truth. He woke Harris and asked him about a statement he had made that his wife was in St. Catharines, Ontario, on the night of the Elwell murder and not in New York.

"What is your birthday?" Oswald asked.

"June 13," Harris replied.

"Did you receive a present on your last birthday?"

"Yes. A pair of socks from my wife."

"Where did she give them to you?"

"Well, it's all up," Harris suddenly announced. "You've got me. She told you the truth when she said she was with me all of the evening and the night of the murder. But that doesn't mean that all of my story was false."

Says Woman Really Plotted.

"What part of it was true?" Oswald broke in.

"Well, the story of the plot hatched by Mrs. Fairchild was true. I did meet her and Jerry, her chauffeur, on three occasions with 'Big Bill' Duncan and I was expected to aid 'Big Bill' to kill him."

"Why didn't you go through with it?" the detective persisted.

"O, I'm not a murderer at heart. When I saw Mrs. Fairchild was intent on having Elwell killed and that 'Big Bill' was willing to do it for the $5,000 she offered us, I got cold feet and quit."

The Whole Story "Bunk."

At the afternoon's grilling Harris sparred with both District Attorney Moore and Detective Oswald, then Oswald trapped him on a minor detail.

Suddenly Harris said:

"O, the whole story was bunk, and my wife knows it was. There never was a Mrs. Fairchild. There never was a 'Big Bill' Duncan, there never was a chauffeur named Jerry."

And so the famous Elwell murder returns to the list of unsolved mysteries, while Harris and his wife return to their cells till the authorities decide what to do with them.

STRIKERS MEET
OWNERS TODAY
TO NEGOTIATEMillions in Damage
Done Coal Pits.

BY AMBROSE LAMBERT.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, April 10.—Peace between the striking coal miners and the British mine owners is expected as the result of parleys between the contending sides which open tomorrow morning in the board of trade, with Sir Robert S. Horne, president of the board, presiding.

The government, while expected to frown upon the two demands of the strikers—for a national wage board and a national profits pool—has decided to extend a compromise in the form of an offer to assist workers in the less productive mining districts until the coal industry has become more normal.

Despite the fact that the end of the coal strike is believed near at hand and that the menace of a general strike by the triple labor entente has been removed, the government has not countermanded the orders which sent many warships from their bases to important harbors and which caused many thousands of men to rush to the colors.

Measures Still in Force.

These defensive measures, it has been announced, will be continued until the coal miners and the owners have reached agreement and the strike has been called off.

Warships continue arriving at various ports and soldiers and naval ratings are taking up stations in the mining areas. It is officially indicated that the troops are purely for protective purposes, and that in no case will soldiers or sailors be used in the pits.

Recruiting figures are unavailable, but the military authorities announce the king's proclamation is meeting with enthusiastic response throughout the country.

Pumpmen Back at Work.

There has been general resumption of pumping in the mines in response to the miners' federation's telegram to all its branches, particularly in Scotland and south Wales, where flooding was most serious. The firehouse pumpmen, however, refused to return to work themselves nor would they permit volunteers to man the pumps on the ground that the telegram was "vague." In the district thirty-eight pits, employing 13,000 underground workers in addition to many surface men, are flooded. Five have been completely abandoned and several others are so flooded that operations could not be resumed for months.

Damage already caused by flooding is estimated at $100,000,000.

This morning I visited Kensington gardens, one of London's great playgrounds, where three battalions of guards are under canvas. Large sections of the gardens are turned into a military camp, and crowds of children and nursemaids assembled this morning to see the picturesque ceremony of mounting guard.

Youths Make Up Troops.

These guards make up troops are little more than boys, as the old conscript war army has been demobilized, and the new troops have seen only a year or less service. However, they are magnificent physical specimens, and the officers say the discipline is worthy of the best traditions of the guard.

Many were recruited from the working classes, and the officers fear the result of a clash with strikers and pray it will be avoided, for the sake of the army. The reserve force taken from the middle classes may be made permanent, as a sort of emergency militia liable to be called in case of a national emergency.

LONDON PRESS OPTIMISTIC.

LONDON, April 10.—The Sunday morning newspapers, commenting on last night's dramatic turn of the industrial crisis, whereby the mine owners and miners will meet Monday morning, welcome the coming conference as one which is likely to open the road to a settlement of all differences, but in their opinion the most important development is that the safety of the mines is already assured.

Only Lloyd's news attempts to explain how the parties were brought into agreement, crediting "the successful outcome to the patience and conciliatory attitude of Mr. Lloyd George who was convinced that a mutually acceptable basis of discussion of the points at issue could be arranged between the parties."

TRAIN HITS AUTO; EX-BALL STAR OF U. OF I. INJURED

Truck Crashes Into Loop
Laborers, One Killed.

Ward Flock, former baseball star of the University of Illinois and overseas war veteran, was seriously injured yesterday when a fast train of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad struck his automobile at the crossing in Barrington, Ill.

Mr. Flock was driving to the town for the Sunday newspaper. He is manager of the Fairview farm, four miles northwest of Barrington.

Just as the automobile reached the track the train, No. 522, swept into it, hurling the machine from the road. Flock was taken to the office of Dr. A. Weicht, the railroad company's physician, where it was found that his left arm had been broken, his head bruised, and that he suffered possible internal injuries.

He graduated from the University of Illinois in 1917. During the war he served with the aerial squadron at Epsom Downs, Kent county, England.

Truck Kills One; Hurts Many.
One man was killed, another was seriously injured, and many others were slightly hurt when a truck driven by Barney Thompson, 618 North Ave. avenue, plowed into a crowd of track laborers at Dearborn and Washington streets yesterday. The truck jammed in the excavation, and Thompson was badly beaten before he was rescued by the police.

The dead man was T. J. Bosjack, 2355 Clybourn avenue. Lazar Plickavich, 2427 Clybourn avenue, is at the Henry hospital with a fractured shoulder. Thompson is being held by the police. He said he did not see the gang working on the track until too late to stop.

Held on Assault Charge.
John Leavitt, 25 years old, 2311 Sedgwick street, was booked on a charge of assault with an automobile by the Town Hall police. His automobile struck Mrs. William Hawkins, 4342 Dearborn avenue, who is now in the Lake View hospital. He will appear before Judge Howard Hayes in the Sheffield avenue court Tuesday.

Guy Gesalio, 70 years old, 910 South Morgan street, suffered a broken rib when the automobile in which he was riding and which was driven by his son, Guy Gesalio Jr., struck a street car at Jackson boulevard and Wells street.

CANDY AND 'KID' SAVE WOULD-BE SUICIDE OF 10

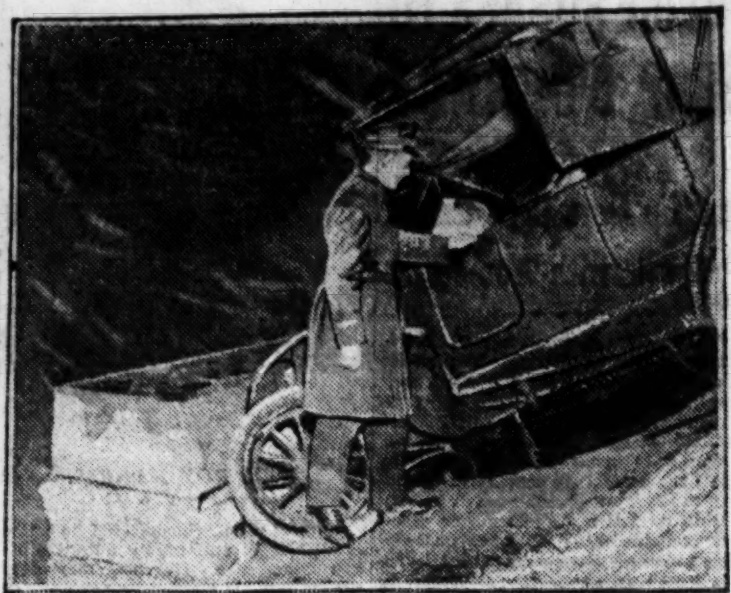

A piece of stick candy and Charlie Chaplin's "Kid" brought 10-year-old David Cahill back home after he had decided to "end it all."

David was mighty blue Saturday. He went home to 1920 Jackson boulevard, filled out one of his mother's blank checks for $10, and cashed it in a nearby drug store.

Then he walked down the street thinking of some plan to get rid of himself. But he passed a candy store and decided to try one more of the alluring sticks. In the store he heard that the "Kid" was going to leave the La Salle street station in a short time. He hurried down.

David waited and waited, till he fell asleep. A member of the Traveler's Aid society found him and turned him over to the Desplains street police, who had been looking for his disappearance. David was taken home and put to bed.

Something Odd in Accidents

(TRIBUNE Photo.)

But for the fortunate intervention of the concrete outlet to a sewer an automobile, which crashed through a fence at Sunnyside avenue and the north branch of the Chicago river early yesterday, might have carried two men to death. The concrete held the motor car out of the water, however, and Thomas J. Walsh of 4701 North Western avenue escaped with superficial cuts, while his companion, William Tell of 1642 Winamac avenue, was unhurt.

SEN. M'CORMICK ASKS DAWES' AID TO HELP VETS

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—Senator Medill McCormick telegraphed today to Gen. Charles G. Dawes, asking him to cooperate with Gen. Foreman and Dr. Billings in deciding upon the steps to be taken to provide, with the least possible delay, facilities for the care and treatment of disabled ex-servicemen. Senator McCormick's telegram was as follows:

"Although you have successfully completed your labors here, and the president has approved your report, I ask your services to hasten relief for the disabled soldiers in and about Chicago. It would contribute greatly to a prompt decision upon the immediate steps necessary to be taken there if you would join Dr. Billings and Gen. Foreman in asking an architect of high standing to determine when the Speedway hospital will actually be ready for the care of patients.

"Unless the Speedway hospital can be completed within a short time, the surgeon general's office, in my judgment, ought to lease hospitals in and about Chicago where men can be assembled under the immediate care and supervision of the government."

1 Killed, 2 Shot, When Six Men Battle a Detective

Omaha, Neb., April 10.—One man is dead and two are in the South Omaha hospital seriously wounded as the result of a shooting battle between six men in an automobile and Detective John Herdina.

Joseph J. Howard, the dead man, is the son of Samuel B. Howard, immigration agent for the Burlington railroad. Paul A. Kane and John E. Welsh are wounded. Herdina admits he fired seven shots, but declares other shots were fired and that he does not know whether he killed Howard. The six young men, police say, had just emerged from a pool hall and entered an automobile, in which they were cheering and singing. It was when Herdina attempted to arrest them that the shooting occurred, one witness said.

IRISHMEN IN U. S. PREVENT PEACE IN ERIN, CHARGE

American Tells How Truce Is Balked.

DUBLIN, April 10.—[By the Associated Press.]—A prominent American here made the statement today that influential Irishmen in America were preventing a settlement of the Irish question on the basis of dominion home rule, insisting upon Ireland being a republic, failing which the warfare in Ireland shall be continued.

This American claimed to be privy to attempts afoot to induce the Sinn Fein leaders to announce publicly their willingness to accept full home rule coupled with fiscal autonomy.

Plead with De Valera.
The informant declared that his name be withheld for the present, but declared that for three weeks every effort had been made unsuccessfully to persuade Eamonn De Valera, the Irish republican leader, and other members of the Dail Eireann, or Irish republican parliament, to state their minimum demands.

"I am confident the British government is ready to agree to negotiate on those terms," the American said, "but the leaders of the Irish in America who are financing the movement here stand out with Michael Collins and the Irish republican army for a republic or nothing."

FOUR WOUNDED IN FIGHT.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
DUBLIN, April 10.—Two soldiers and two civilians were wounded in a fight between soldiers and republicans last night.

The military are adopting new tactics. Patrols heretofore drove off when attacked. During the last week lorries were halted, soldiers dismounted, spread out, and open fire promptly. In a recent Harcourt street fight three volunteers were killed by these tactics. It was officially announced today that the military captured a Lewis gun motor car, foodstuffs, and 100 bicycles belonging to Irish volunteers stored in the show grounds of Cork.

2 GLORIANA GANG MEN IDENTIFIED AS BANK ROBBERS

Two members of the Gloriana gang, out of Joliet penitentiary on writs of superadeas, were identified yesterday as two of the four men who robbed the Summit State bank of nearly $11,000 on April 1.

The men are Thomas Moretti of 1139 Orleans street and Dominick Nuccio, also known as Mucolo and Libbie, 1103 Cambridge avenue. They were arrested with Lawrence Chambers of 413 Sigel street by Detective Sergeant Jensen and Laurell of the detective bureau. The detectives had sought Moretti and Nuccio in connection with several payroll robberies and the murder of Hjalmar Johnson of the Brink Express company.

The cashier of the bank at Summit, Ill., William Keller, and J. E. Malloy, postmaster, made the identification. Malloy was present at the time of the holdup. The thieves took $300 which he was about to deposit.

Crown forces were ambushed on the road between Middleton and Castle Martyr during the evening. The men in the ambulance exploded a large mine. The fighting lasted for half an hour. The casualties are not known.

Constable Is Slain.

BELFAST, April 10.—A constable was instantly killed and three others were wounded today when they were attacked while cycling near the village of Cregganuff. The attacking party, numbering sixteen, was posted behind a wall and had rifles and revolvers and grenades, the four constables replying with revolvers.

ANTIQUE

ORIENTAL RUGS

The most notable collection of rare Antiques that has been shown by this establishment in many years—the result of far-reaching search and months of unremitting effort in selection.

Classic examples of Antique Rugs in all Oriental varieties, from Persia, Central Asia, Asia Minor, Caucasus, Belouchistan, China, etc., are shown—some of them dating back to the fifteenth century, the period in which the Persian Empire reached the zenith of its attainments in culture and art.

These Rugs are regarded by eminent critics as worthy of a place in the world of art equal to that accorded the "old masters" in the realm of canvas and marble.

The Passing of the Antique Rug

Unusual interest attaches to this exhibition in view of the growing scarcity of genuine Antiques.

The majority of ancient specimens that were obtainable a few years ago have passed into private ownership, and it is freely predicted that within a few years real Antiques will have become a matter of history.

While this exhibition will be of special interest to connoisseurs and collectors, it will be a source of pleasure and benefit to all lovers of art.

Your inspection is cordially invited.

The Davies Way The Davies Price

WE could reduce our prices but not without lessening the quality of our work—all of which is done by hand.

We have found the standard which has given us our prestige extremely worthwhile and we purpose to hold to it.

Some, who have never used the DAVIES SERVICE, have called our prices high—but customers in thirty-eight states, besides our local clientele, are glad to pay for the DAVIES way.

It is really more economical.

ARE WE SINFUL O' SUNDAYS?

Sunday motion picture shows are one of the factors that detract from a strict observance of the Sabbath, according to literature circulated by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which yesterday closed a week of prayer. The W. C. T. U. would abolish Sunday movies in order that more people might attend church worship. The crowd shown in the picture was waiting in front of a loop theater yesterday afternoon.

Baseball diamonds, like those in Lincoln park, where the picture was made, should be deserted from Saturday to Monday, members of the W. C. T. U. assert, because baseball is another reason why people forego church.

Motoring for pleasure on Sunday is also decried on the theory that the automobile lessens the church attendance. The picture was taken yesterday on the North Michigan avenue bridge.

One hundred and fifty thousand caddies are employed on golf links o' Sundays. A movement has been launched against golf on the first day to give the caddies a chance to go to Sunday school.

W.C.T.U. FIAT ON
"FAGS" UNHEEDED
UNITS HOME TOWNEvanston Fails to Notice
"Anti-Cigaret Sunday."

Local officials of the W. C. T. U., in their anxiety to spread anti-tobacco and anti-cigaret propaganda over the United States, forget Evanston, the seat of the national headquarters? Or did Evanston blissfully ignore yesterday as "anti-cigaret and anti-tobacco Sunday?"

However these questions may be answered, the fact remains that there were no special services in the Evanston churches, no demonstrations in the Sunday schools, no pulpit announcements, and no unusual activity in the W. C. T. U. A. and Y. W. C. A. because of the day, which was also the windup of the "Sunday observance prayer week."

Programs had been planned in other cities. During last week the mails carried pamphlets, blotters, circulars, letters, stickers, magazines, and playlets devised to plead for Sabbath observance. Preachers were expected to make mention of the fact from the pulpits. Sunday school teachers were to give a special lesson on the subject. Playlets entitled "The Road to Tobacco" and "The Trial of Nicotine" and others were to be given in the Sunday school rooms.

Why No Evanston Program?
"We had no program of any kind in Evanston," declared Mrs. E. O. Williams, president of the Marcy union, the Evanston chapter of the organization.

"Why?" she was asked.
"None of your business," she replied. Mrs. Helen Hood, president of the Evanston Sunday School association, declared that lessons dealing with the evils of tobacco were mailed throughout the United States yesterday to Sunday school superintendents. But no lessons of the Sunday School association could be found in Evanston.

"The Young Crusader," a W. C. T. U. publication for the children, appeared yesterday as an "anti-tobacco number." In the magazine were short stories extolling the anti-smoker and telling how the smoker was handicapped through life. There were also items telling what doctors said of the evils of tobacco.

Explain Purpose of Day.
The workers of the W. C. T. U. declare that the purpose of the anti-tobacco and anti-cigaret Sunday was to educate the young people not to use tobacco. However, a book, called "The Road to Work," written by Helen G. Jones, superintendent of the anti-tobacco department of the organization, stated that it was for the purpose of instilling public sentiment against the use of tobacco and cigarettes.

The purpose of the prayer observance week was to create public sentiment against automobiling on Sunday, and baseball playing on Sunday, and the literature distributed.

CITY'S PHTHISIS
RATE HALVED IN LAST FIVE YEARS

CHICAGO yesterday added more weight to its claim of being the healthiest city in the world when Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson announced that the death rate from tuberculosis has been cut in half in the last five years. According to the figures made public by Dr. Robertson, there were 4,189 deaths from the white plague in 1915, or nearly twice a day, while in 1920 the city, with 300,000 more inhabitants than it had five years ago, had only 2,659 deaths from the disease.

In 1915 the eight municipal tuberculosis dispensaries were caring for 12,000 patients, and of every 100 persons who appealed to them for aid, seventy-five were found to be suffering with the disease. In 1920 the dispensaries were caring for 40,000 cases and only forty-five of each 100 applicants were found to be suffering from the plague.

"The figures show that we have got tuberculosis on the run in Chicago," said Dr. Robertson, "and we are going to ask the legislature to increase our appropriation so that we can still further decrease the death rate."

The "other power" referred to is believed to be Spain.

Powers Want Bars Up.
PARIS, April 10.—Negotiations for the purpose of finding a formula definitely guaranteeing countries adjacent to Hungary against further attempts by former Emperor Charles to reinstate himself as king have been begun between France, Great Britain, Italy, and the members of the "little entente," says the Petit Parisien. It is probable that a decision will be reached in the near future, the newspaper says.

BRICKLAYERS REFUSE PAY CUT BY 3,742 TO 84

Chief Holds Men Get Work
Only 100 Days a Year.

Bricklayers and stone masons followed the lead of the electrical workers yesterday in rejecting a wage cut of 20 per cent. They voted against the proposed decrease, 2,712 to 84, at a meeting in Bricklayers' hall.

Contractors and builders last night said the vote was no surprise to them. They reiterated their belief that the unions will reconsider the proposed wage cut before May 1, when most of the working contracts expire.

"Wage schedules are not stronger than economic laws," one large builder said. "It's not the wage rate, but the amount in the pay envelope, that counts. Where does a worker profit if he has a high wage scale but no work?"

"As for continuous employment the year around, the building trade could guarantee that to the workers only if somebody else would guarantee that cold weather and frost would not come during the winter. The only way to get rid of seasonal unemployment in building is to abolish the seasons."

Union Chief Discusses Vote.
The vote does not mean the men want to keep building costs up," declared Peter Shaugnessy, president of the union, "but it indicates pretty clearly that either the wages of the men in our craft must be maintained or the contractors must provide continuous employment for our members."

Here are the statistics on the craft: Out of the 365 days in the year they lose 81—Sundays, Saturday afternoons, and holidays. In January, February, and March they lose three days a week, a total of thirty-nine days. In April, May, and June they lose one day a week due to climatic conditions. That's thirteen days. In July, August, and September they will average two days a month loss—six days. And in October, November, and December they lose four days.

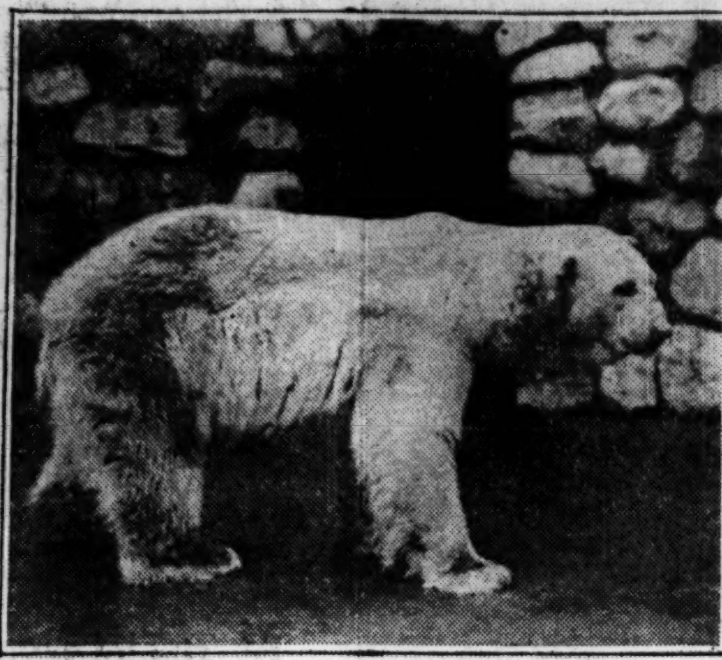

Average 100 Days' Work a Year.
Now take the average layoff time. It's ten days. Altogether there are 161 days lost. That would be under normal conditions. But conditions are not normal. The average actual working time of the bricklayer and stone mason is about 180 days, if all is lovely. But the men have been working about 100 days a year for some time. They get $10 a day. That means $1,000 a year!

"The United States bureau of statistics says $2,300 is the amount necessary for the maintenance of a family of four; any more of our men have more than four in their families. Where do they get off?"

"Any time the men are guaranteed 250 days' work a year there will be no quibble about $1 an hour. The movement on foot to reduce the wages of the building trades is fostered under a erroneous statement—that labor gets 90 per cent of the money that goes into a building."

Backs Statement with Figures.
It has been proved that the labor

HE'S QUITTING US

Rex, one of the Lincoln park zoo's polar bears, will quit Chicago soon to join a circus.

Princess Goes, Too

We regret to report that visitors at the Lincoln park zoo are about to lose two old friends. Perhaps that's why Rex, pictured above, seems rather downhearted. He and Princess, the giant female polar bear of the zoo, have been lured into a circus.

After thirteen years in our park, the couple will desert us for the glamour of the sawdust arena, or wherever it is that polar bears shine beneath the big tops. Rex and Princess grew up in our midst, too, coming here when only 1 year old.

Rex was too pensive yesterday to provide material for a fitting farewell story. He was pondering the good eats that have come his way in the park and wondering what sort of fish they'd feed him with the circus. Fish and seals, you know, form the principal diet of the polar bear. The polars need lots of food, too, for they grow as big as nine feet and some weigh as much as 1,500 pounds. They are amphibious—equally at home in water or on land. Nature equipped them thus so as to give them an even chance with the fish in the battle for the food that means existence. But gosh! how we'd hate to be a poor fish with a hungry ton and a half polar bear diving after us and smacking his lips!

Items in a $6,000 building of six rooms, 24x46, is as follows:
Carpenter work $ 515
Mason work 440
Concrete and sidewalk 250
Plaster 144
Electrical 20
Plumbing 50
Heating 100
Painting 150
Shingling 20

Total $1,749
*That total would indicate that the cost of labor is not 61 per cent, but 29 per cent."

TAX EXEMPTION SPEEDS BUILDING IN N. Y., IS CLAIM

New York, April 10.—In the first five weeks since the tax exemption ordinance became effective, Feb. 25, home building in New York City increased 76 per cent, compared with the corresponding period a year ago, Henry H. Curran, president of the borough of Manhattan, announced today.

Figures just compiled by the building bureau in the five boroughs show that plans for 3,584 dwellings had been filed in the five week period this year, against 2,020 in 1920.

Again Build Flat Houses.
Building of apartment houses, Mr. Curran said, which virtually had stopped in 1920, has begun again. "The steady growth in the building of homes," he added, "offers a cheerful exception to the prevailing pessimism of the reconstruction period through which we are now passing."

The figures for the first five weeks since the tax exemption ordinance took effect on Feb. 25 show that relief from the housing shortage is even more visible than it was a little while ago. The increase in the number of plans filed over the same five weeks in 1920 is 1,555, or 76 per cent.

"Although we must have apartment houses and many more of them to relieve the present distress, the most encouraging result of the tax exemption is the spring growth of the little houses that dot the boroughs outside of Manhattan."

To Own Own Homes.
Most of these houses will be owned by the families who live in them. At the present time, less than 5 per cent of New York City's families own their homes."

Mr. Curran said he had received inquiries from most of the larger cities of the country about the beneficial effects already resulting from the tax exemption ordinance.

"It appears that many of them are seriously considering the enactment of similar laws for their own benefit," he added.

OHIO TYPOS MAY AID FIGHT FOR 44 HOUR WEEK

Marion, O., April 10.—A general sentiment in favor of supporting officials of the International Typographical union in its fight for the forty-four hour week in commercial print shops, was reported by delegates attending the semi-annual Ohio Typographical conference which closed here today.

Max S. Hays of Cleveland, organizer for the international union, asserted that the demand for the shorter week is merely the carrying out of an agreement entered into with employers in April, 1919.

Sunday Camp Wins 30 Recruits for Artillery

About thirty recruits were added to the rolls of the 2d Illinois field artillery, formerly known as "Reddy's bucks," yesterday, when a detail of twenty-four men, under Lieut. Charles B. Morris and Albert Olsen, established a Sunday camp in Seward park at Division and Sedgwick streets.

The detail mounted two heavy Browning machine guns and two one pounders, which were operated, taken apart and put together again for the instruction of a large number of interested youths. Col. Edward H. White commands the regiment.

CLOTHES MAKERS LARGE PAY CUT TO HELP WORKERS

Lower Wage Means
More Real Wages.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

Making a 25 per cent cut in wages, Chicago manufacturers are clothing makers who are urging that reduction in rates will increase actual wages of garment workers by stimulating business and restoring more employment. The request for schedules and for more efficiency is pending before the board of arbitration and a finding is looked for next week.

The industry is one in which an unusual form of "industrial government" has been set up and one in which the question is whether the manufacturers will work as well backward as forward on wages.

Manufacturers who have prepared the schedules of the manufacturers point out that all is a restoration of balance. The industry so far have been a hodge-podge of approaching uniformity without reducing production in many industries.

"Buyers' Strike" Still On.

The "buyers' strike" is still on, increased unemployment and decreased earnings, all of which serves to depress buying another notch. The industry in the pay envelope depends on the rate of pay and amount of work and the men's clothing workers are building trades, find themselves with high rates of wages, but no work.

Wages Up 254 Per Cent.

Wages in the men's garment industry, the brief points out, are 254 per cent higher than they were in Jan., 1915. (This is the average of all the weekly wage of all workers in one plant said to be typical of the industry.) From Jan., 1915 to Jan., 1921, the percentage of increase was 254 per cent for men, 286 per cent for women, 286 per cent combined 254 per cent. As compared with this, the cost of living in Chicago at its peak last June was 100 per cent higher than when the strike out, and it has been dropping since. The manufacturers say that a 25 per cent cut would

AS IT WAS IN STAGE COACH DAYS

The edict of Postmaster General Hays, that postoffice employees who are responsible for the safety of registered mails shall go armed, recalls the early west when a rifleman sat beside the driver of a stage coach, ready to repel either highwaymen or hostile Indians. After law established itself the mails were supposed to be immune from molestation, and for years postoffice employees have carried no weapons. Robberies totaling $6,000,000 in the last nine months, however, have resulted in Postmaster General Hays' new order. The scene, taken in the postoffice yesterday, when sawed off shotguns were issued, shows (from left to right) Stanley Dwyer, Harry Munsel, Daniel Kennedy, and Charles A. Vogt.

still leave wage rates 164 per cent higher than in 1914.

"What we are faced with," says the memorandum of the manufacturers, "is the fact of generally depleted purchasing power and the consequent inability of people to buy clothing, except on the basis of a readjustment all along the line in this industry, in some fair relation to readjustments in other industries."

Business Off 45 to 80%.

"The outstanding facts to be drawn from the market analysis of business conditions taken from confidential schedules and all original data laid before the board are these: There is a falling off, ranging from about 45 to 80 per cent in different houses in the volume of business."

"There is a decrease in average selling price of suits of from $6 to $16. There is distinct massing of business in the lower price ranges, as distinguished from well balanced orders. There is a terrific loss accruing as a result of an unheard of amount of merchandise returned. In one case this is as high as 40 per cent and ranges from 10 to 20 are the rule."

"Finally, there is a response from customers that shows conclusively a determination to buy merchandise only on a price basis, with the result that practically the only goods being sold in the market are sold on a basis that fails to cover the necessary outlay. The net result of all this is that the clothing business in this market since the late spring of 1920 is being conducted on the basis of loss.

"Business with not, however, and cannot continue to be, done at a loss. To prolong present conditions will mean that people will get out of the habit of buying clothing in the way they have bought it in the past. If this occurs employment, instead of becoming better, will become worse, and the clothing workers will inevitably suffer in consequence."

20 SCANDINAVIAN SCHOLARSHIPS TO U.S. STUDENTS

New York, April 10.—Twenty American students have been appointed to traveling scholarships of $1,000 each for study in the universities and technical institutes of Denmark, Norway, and Sweden during the year 1921-1922.

The students, representing twelve colleges, are appointed by the American-Scandinavian Foundation under the terms of a fellowship exchange existing between the United States and the Scandinavian countries.

Ten of the students will be sent to Sweden, five to Denmark, and five to Norway. Four will study language and literature; three, hydro-electrical engineering; two, chemistry; two, forestry; and two, economics. The others will study metallurgy, medicine, physics, fisheries, agriculture, or church history.

FIRE DESTROYS STOVE PLANT.

Ironton, O., April 10.—[Special.]—The plant of the Ironton Stove Manufacturing company, manufacturers of gas heaters, was destroyed by fire today. The loss will be between $125,000 and $150,000.

DOWNSTATE GOES AFTER SMALL TO SPEED ROADWAYS

Franklin County Wants
System Started.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Springfield, Ill., April 10.—[Special.]—Southern Illinois has started a spring drive upon Gov. Small and the department of public works for immediate construction of the state bond issue system through the important coal fields of Franklin county.

Tomorrow the governor will be sought by a delegation of twenty-five Franklin county citizens, representing the chambers of commerce of Benton, Christopher and West Frankfort. They will present a petition that, in effect, is a demand that the state contracts on the coal belt main lines be let without delay.

This will be backed up by a petition, in the form of a pledge, signed by 1,000 automobile owners in the coal territory, volunteering to pay a double or triple automobile license fee to raise cash necessary to this construction.

Coal Fields Need Roads.

The Franklin county people are demanding action solely upon the broad basis that the "world's greatest coal field" needs the roads to get the coal to market. The increased production, they will urge, necessarily reduces the cost to the consumer.

The delegation arrived tonight and camped immediately upon the state house trail. Gov. Small is expected from Kankakee tomorrow.

The house steering committee will meet Tuesday morning to consider some plan of speeding up house action, Chairman Holiday announces. On the tentative program for the week will be committee agreement upon the mayor's 5 cent fare bill, which was delayed last week, through failure of the city's traction experts to get the re-drafted bill ready for committee action.

Utilities Bill Expected.

The public utilities bills, to be backed by the state administration, also will come from committee.

The soldiers' bonus bill will be up in the house Tuesday morning. Rep. Myers, Pontiac, in charge of the bill for the American Legion, may insist upon a roll call for passage as the bill stands.

The Democrats are insisting that it be recalled to second reading for the purpose of a minor amendment.

The house revenue committee, Wednesday probably, will have its instructions as to the stock of bills having to do with increasing Chicago tax rates for each and every taxing body in the metropolitan district.

RENT MOVE ON WEDNESDAY.

The senate bills dealing with the rental situation in Chicago are now all in house committees. Something indicative of what may be expected is due for development Wednesday.

The senate probably will not vote on the state police bill, which is waiting on third reading.

KIDDED BY EXPERTS.

Some time ago, when it was discovered that the city's two building experts had paid $1,000,000 or more in fees, Mr. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, said that was not all the bad news. The returns were just beginning to come in, said Mr. Faherty. He was right. The figures now given the city council for fees for the two experts total $2,876,063.

Oscar Hewitt compares the work done by Mr. Mesce and Mr. Lynch, the city experts, and the fees accruing to them, with what would have been the fees claimed under the authorized rates of both the Cook county real estate board and the Chicago real estate board for appraisals. In the one case the fee would have been $705,166 and in the other $835,572. The city experts run $2,000,000 over this. This seems to establish that Mr. Mesce and Mr. Lynch are much more expert than most experts and that their various staffs are extraordinarily expert.

We also see that the city is pretty well kidded by experts, and the first thing we know there will have to be another bond issue as the easiest way of meeting bills.

GUN TOTING.

Several limit sentences were given the other day for gun toting. Judge Morgan announced that every man brought before him guilty of carrying concealed weapons would get the limit. This is sixty days imprisonment and a fine of $200.

We assume the judge's declaration is not unreserved but refers to cases in themselves suspicious and suggestive of possible criminality. Crime conditions and the weakness of our criminal administration are such as to make a strong case for the decent citizen who feels it necessary to provide his own protection from attack. But an intelligent judge can discriminate and at the same time make it expensive for toughs to carry guns.

The constructive remedy, however, is presented by Superintendent of Police Fitzmorris, who is sponsoring bills now on their way to passage in the legislature, providing that the punishment for murder, manslaughter, robbery with a gun, kidnapping, and rape shall be not less than life, and that no parole in such cases shall be granted within ten years.

The superintendent of police has just made a startling exposure of the weaknesses of practice in our parole system, and even those who believe in the system must admit it needs more drastic safeguards than it has in Illinois. His bills if enacted will provide a safeguard and will make gun toting a serious matter. When these measures are in full force and effect we can justly demand that no man, unless he works or lives under a special hazard specified by law, shall be allowed to carry a deadly weapon. But until the community gives more adequate protection to the law abiding, courts will be compelled to make due allowance for our unfortunate conditions. Judges ought to take the law against carrying concealed weapons seriously, and Judge Morgan is to be commended for the stand he has taken. But until constructive action such as Chief Fitzmorris proposes is taken against the criminal law against concealed weapons cannot be enforced with full vigor.

NO FEDERAL MONEY FOR NEGLECTED ROADS.

The good practical sense which happily seems to be a marked characteristic of Mr. Harding's mind is shown by his determination to check federal contribution to highway construction where states neglect to make proper provision for upkeep. Building roads at great expense, and then not keeping them in condition, is an inexcusable waste; waste not only of the original expenditure but waste through the inefficiency of the roads as transportation agencies. The influences which profit directly by public appropriations, of course, will get as much money from the federal government as possible, and their interest thereafter lapses, but federal taxpayers—and we are nearly all in that class nowadays—will be grateful to Mr. Harding if he will insist that no federal money goes to any state unless it is to be well spent and the investment protected—that is, the investment is the good road, and if the good road is allowed to go to pieces, the investment were better not made.

Upkeep pays. For every day a defect in a road is neglected the cost of repair increases almost geometrically. Economy and efficiency demand that roads, once laid, should be constantly watched and promptly mended. If a state does not provide for this it should have no help from Uncle Sam.

GO HOME, MR. JONES!

John L. Jones, a British labor leader, announces in New York that he is preparing a campaign of propaganda to align American miners and transport workers against British shipping in support of the effort to nationalize British mines. Incidentally he intends to play upon the prejudices of American workmen of Irish extraction to promote his own schemes.

We rise to suggest to Mr. John L. Jones that he pack up his pamphlets and propaganda, his verbal bombs and buncombe, and get home, or at least get gone.

Jones insults the intelligence of American labor. He makes us thankful that Samuel Gompers has declared himself so unequivocally against the Red doctrines of Lenin and Trotsky. He reveals that he is of that faction of British labor which is bolshevist at heart. In his present attitude he is an internationalist and a Communist. He calls upon American workmen to sacrifice themselves upon the altar of ambition set up by a group of British union chiefs. He admits that there is no principle at stake in the present British strike. Wages and hours mean nothing. Nationalization of mines is the thing sought. That would mean control of the mines by a handful of union chiefs, just as a group of commissars control all the activities of Russia. It is for that that he would injure our international relations, impair our prosperity, inspire our citizens to boycott and strike, and otherwise use us at our own great expense to his own advantage.

If his appeal should be successful we might expect Kamchatkan fishermen to dictate hours, wages, and conditions to Americans on the Grand Banks or the Columbia river. A Bokhara rug maker might rearrange the economic and social standards of the Yonkers carpet factories to help out the Amalgamated Rug Makers of Turkestan.

Is there no limit to the impudence of the internationalists? If not now, there will be, and we believe it will be fixed definitely for Mr. John L. Jones by the American union men whose intelligence he insults.

KEEPING EUROPE OUT OF AMERICA.

The immigration bill which Mr. Wilson vetoed will be reintroduced, and it is expected that it will be passed again and this time become a law. It will limit immigration from any country in any one year to 3 per cent of the foreign born persons of that nationality resident in the United States in 1910 and as shown by the census of that year.

This was the provision of the bill as vetoed by Wilson. A 3 per cent limitation would have great effect on immigration, particularly from southern and eastern Europe, and not a great deal upon immigration from northern and western Europe. If the 1913 immigration figures are taken as approximately normal, the limitation would be far above the normal for Germany, slightly above for Norway and Sweden, and very slightly above for the United Kingdom. It would considerably reduce the Belgian and the French opportunity, and slightly reduce it for the Netherlands and Denmark.

The principal check would be against Italy, countries of the former Austria-Hungary combination, and Russia. These regions have been furnishing the big stream of immigrants, and it is in them that the desire to escape native conditions has become almost a panic.

We are convinced that what the country needs temporarily is an absolute closing of the gates. The United States is not prepared to take care of hundreds of thousands of Europeans who want to escape conditions at home. We should be in luck if they did not merely reproduce here the situation from which they fled, and in doing so make more precarious the situation of Americans.

The congressmen who wanted to put the bare up had to compromise with interests which want cheap labor. If the compromise has to be made, it must be accepted. There are selfish, powerful, and short-sighted employers of labor who want access to the cheap labor of Europe in order that they may break down American standards of wages and, consequently, of living.

We concede that the union labor spirit in this country is not very considerate of the country's condition, and that labor does not make readily the concessions which the times demand, but we are not ready to jump over the fence and consider waste a policy which would break the unions down, dissipate them, undermine a fair wage scale, and reduce general living conditions by traffic with European distress and emergency.

In our opinion it is a rather poor American who can advance such a policy. Furthermore, this nation finds that it has a lot of nationalizing to do, and it does not advance it by admitting great blocks of aliens who are difficult to assimilate.

We regard the 3 per cent bill as about the last compromise that can be made. There may be a few inequities in it which can be cleared up, but substantially it represents about all the United States can concede with wisdom and in safety.

PEP IN THE POSTAL SERVICE.

Postmaster General Hays has supplemented his promise to humanize the postal service with a move to vitalize it. His action in calling the postmasters of Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Detroit, Cleveland, Baltimore, and St. Louis into conference in Washington was a practical step toward improvement of a very important phase of business activity.

Congestion of the mails under the Bureau regime in the spring of 1920 reached such a state that business men were losing thousands of dollars daily through the delay of important transactions. This wasteful expense was due largely to lack of proper facilities for handling mail in large centers such as Chicago and New York, where business has doubled and trebled without any corresponding improvement in provision for handling it.

It was to discuss the enlargement of facilities in such centers and to receive and offer suggestions for other improvements that Mr. Hays called this conference of responsible postmasters, who could and did give to the service the invaluable results of their knowledge and experience. The action indicates an encouraging tendency to get away from the autocratic rule of the last administration and correct any evils which may be disclosed.

If, as seems certain, an improvement in postal service results, it will contribute appreciably to a revival of all business. Modern business is dependent upon swift and certain mail service to an extent which the ordinary layman can hardly realize. For that reason a speeding up of all service will certainly assist the speeding up of all business.

Incidentally, Chicago will get the new postoffice building which it has needed for years. It will be provided logically because it is a necessity and a good investment, not as a piece of political pork.

Editorial of the Day

CHICAGO IS WIDE AWAKE.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
Chicago gets up in the morning and enjoys its evenings at home. Easter Sunday it moved its clocks ahead an hour, and they will stay ahead till the last Sunday of October. Chicago does this of its own volition, quite independently of any state or federal authorization.

There are drawbacks. For instance, the railroads will continue to operate on the slower time and both Chicagoans and transients will be compelled to make many computations. But the advantages will probably outweigh the disadvantages. The people of the great city will have an extra hour of daylight, and that means more health as well as more happiness.

Cleveland, fortunately, is placed in a time zone which provides for long evenings. In war time Cleveland tried an even earlier time, but there was such a noisy protest that the city council was persuaded to turn back the clock after a few weeks' trial and before anything like a fair test was possible. There is, perhaps, a possibility of having too much of any good thing, even too much daylight. But Chicago will not have too much of it, and the city deserves praise for being awake to the desirability of being awake.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to use the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

WHAT?
When I know them no more, what will I remember?
The flickering light and shade that leaves cast on the ground.
The warm morning sun shining through the open window.
A bird song in the rain.
The candle glow reflected in cut glass and silver.
Or the uneven city skyline, black against the sunset?

(After Baudelaire.)
For pasture, often, those who sail the deep
Erename as captives, mighty albatrosses,
Majestic seals, whose great pinions sweep
Above the ships that far-off waters toss.

But scarcely are they prisoned to the decks.
These monarchs of blue kingdoms, sky and sea,
Till they become disgraced and waddling wrecks
Above the ships that far-off waters toss.

Their wonderful white wings drag shamefully.

Can this be that sea seeking voyager.

Whence does he fall to such ignoble fate?

In sport, with half smoked pipe, the mariner
Insults his beak. One apes his crippled gait.

Like him, the poet stars in azure spheres
And at the archer laughs; in tempest, sings!
But exiled to the earth, amid men's jeers,
He cannot walk because of giant wings.

ABOLISH AND THE 18TH AMENDMENT.
Abolition (to abolish) is the Latin derivation of abolish, to do away with something that has grown, become rooted, so to speak—as a custom. The Eighteenth Amendment, in which was placed great reliance by the prohibitionists, has somewhat abated that well-intentioned but foolish practice of suggesting: "If we force another, old man"—at least, in public. If you are not familiar with the applications of the several synonyms of abolish, and lack time or inclination to study them, you will not go far astray in assuming that the general annual when abrogate would serve the better in a specific connection.

Me to ask, Can moles be removed? I have about four or five on my face and certainly would like to have them removed.

REPLY. However, do not "podge" with them yourself. Either have them removed by a physician or leave them entirely alone.

Generous Cuss writes: "Please give the name of a yellow snuff good for a cold. Long ago I had one, used that snuff, and found it very good. I passed it along. REPLY. Claimant of yellow snuff of mercury is in wide use as a local application for a sore.

SPECIAL TREATMENT ADVISABLE.
Miss P. A. A. writes: "When I was about 10 years old I had double pneumonia. When I began to recover I did not spit up any phlegm, but I broke out with the hives. Ever since, whenever I get sick, I break out with hives. I am now 14."

REPLY. Are hives dangerous?
"2. Does vaccination cure the hives?"
"3. Does dieting do any good?"

REPLY. 1. Ordinary hives, no. 2. Your history indicates that you became hypersensitive to some protein substance absorbed from your lungs when you had pneumonia. If this is the case, in all probability you would be benefited by being desensitized against the bacteria of pneumonia. On that theory dieting should not help you.

USE VINEGAR FOR NITS.
Mrs. B. N. writes: "Kindly advise a remedy to take nits off a child's head. I have tried everything that people advised. I wash her head once a week and find comb it every day, but cannot get the nits off."

REPLY. Hot vinegar and a fine tooth comb.

REPLY. Use a teaspoonful of her milk of magnesia. Have her drink more water. Prune juice has a very limited value as a laxative.

BEST TO FORGET THEM.
R. T. R. writes: "What is the cause of floating specks before the eyes, and is it possible to cure the complaint? My eyesight is good otherwise. My age is 32."

REPLY. The phenomenon is of no importance. The cause is not worth considering. To disregard the specks is the proper policy.

GERMAN TRADE AND GERMAN PROPAGANDA.

Chicago, April 7.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In a Chicago afternoon paper of April 5 an interview was printed telling of a recent trip to Germany and of the need of a fund for the relief of the population of Germany.

Reliable newspaper dispatches tell us of millions of marks being bet on the races in Berlin, and of dancing, theatricals, and wild parties in the German capital equaling in expense and splendor those of the pre-war days.

Latest trade statistics show us that Germany is shipping great quantities of goods to all parts of the world and underselling the United States and other exporting nations by margins ranging from 25% to 50%. The writer has just returned from a business trip to South America and there found scores of German traveling men, emissaries, and propagandists actively at work, most of their efforts being devoted toward attacking American interests.

Germany today is even exporting raw materials despite the cries of the German government and the pro-Germans in the United States that German factories are closed and workmen starving because of the lack of raw material.

During the month of January, 1921, Germany shipped into Buenos Aires 3,600 tons of wood pulp of German origin and also shipped 1,300 tons of dressed paper of German origin into the same city. The cost of living in Germany today is one-third less than in any civilized country and taxes in Germany are from 50% to 80% lower than they are in the United States, Great Britain, or France.

If sentimental pro-Germans wish to aid needy widows and babies, let them correspond with Theodore Roosevelt, American Legion, 1205 North Dearborn street, and a list will be furnished them. If they wish to aid in stamping out disease, let them communicate with American Legion headquarters and they will be furnished a list of contract hospitals where American ex-service men still are forced to remain due to the action of the German nation.

JOHN R. ROBINSON.

AMERICANISM IN PICTURES.

Hot Springs, Ark., April 7.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Taking a glance at the pictorial pages of our leading newspaper, it somehow grieves me to see thereon the likeness of old country crowns, heads set over and over again before the eyes of the American public. For what reason is this done?

Can the keen eyes of Democracy see anything grand or lovely therein? What has this grand republic in common with royalty? The papers would do a far greater service if they would bring the attention of the public to home grown American principles and ideas instead of to gilded crowned heads. This would be common sense applied to young America. Children are influenced by pictures.

GERMANY FORMS COMMISSION TO CURB SANCTIONS

Sees Economic Salvation in Tax on Rents.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
BERLIN, April 10.—To meet the economic sanctions Germany has appointed an official "anti-reprisal commission," of which Hans Kraemer, one of the nation's leading industrialists, is chairman and Hugo Stinnes is a member.

Herr Kraemer was chairman of the commission of experts which framed the counter proposals to the allies presented at the recent London conference by Dr. Simons, the German foreign minister.

While most Germans declare themselves unable to analyze the methods by which the allies hope to enforce the economic demands, Herr Kraemer has figured out their effect upon German commerce and industry.

Expect Big Export Drop.

"When the allies begin the blockade of the Rhine next Thursday," he said today, "our export trade to foreign enemy countries will be completely ended. This will represent a decrease of 25 per cent in Germany's exports. Only such deliveries to the neutral nations and to America may be made as were actually begun prior to next Thursday.

"Although I am the head of the anti-reprisal commission, this does not mean that we shall attempt to dodge the allies' measures. While I believe some shippers will continue operations without showing the origin of articles shipped through neutral nations, and although an Italian statesman has informed me that he knows a hundred ways in which Germany could avoid the reprisals, Germany's leading industrialists will not dodge the national obligation.

Says 'Dodging' Would Not Pay.

"Our finance minister and other government leaders say that to attempt dodging these responsibilities would not aid either our economic or industrial situation.

"Eventually these reprisals will prove impossible economically. At the beginning there will be many industries forced to close down and there will be a vast unemployment problem.

"Our committee already has presented a plan to the government which we feel will do much toward relieving the unemployment situation and also be of great constructive value to the nation.

"We propose to levy a 10 per cent tax on all rents. This would make available a vast sum which we would use in building houses, thereby at once giving employment and solving the housing problem. Germany today is short a million homes. We plan to build 150,000 annually. Also we are planning a great four-track railway system to replace the present two-track lines."

"All familiar with conditions cannot help but know that these plans which need correcting show this any better than the regime. I believe it is every way possible to overcome these, and never in the history has there been as excellent a more sincere administration than the present one. I believe it is every way possible to overcome these, and never in the history has there been as excellent a more sincere administration than the present one."

DIES IN FRANCE

Chicago Girl, Famed for Beauty, Succumbs on Tour with Her Mother.

MISS MARIE K. BECKER.

[By the Photo.]

MISS Marie K. Becker of Chicago—she and her mother were once acclaimed the most beautiful American women visiting France—died in Nice, France, yesterday, according to word received in Chicago. Miss Becker and her mother were traveling. The cause of death was not stated.

Miss Becker was the daughter of the late Louis A. Becker, from 1900 to 1911 president of the L. A. Becker company, and later vice president of Blahop & Babcock company of Cleveland, O., who died in June, 1919.

In 1909 Paris society unofficially elected Mrs. Becker "Queen of Beauty." A dispatch from Paris read: "Mrs. Becker is never seen in public without her daughter, Marie, of the same exquisite type as her mother. Both are unusually tall and they create a sensation wherever they go. Painters and sculptors are endeavoring to get sittings of the American beauties, but both smilingly decline."

Miss Becker was 27 years old.

D'ANDREA, TAKEN IN EDUCATIONAL CLUB RAID, HELD

Anthony D'Andrea, labor leader and defeated candidate for alderman of the Nineteenth ward, who was arrested Saturday night by police in a raid on the Italian-American Educational club, Taylor and Miller streets, was booked at the detective bureau yesterday on a charge of being an inmate of a disorderly house. Sixteen other men, including Michael Iarussi, undertaker, 761 Taylor street, who were arrested in the raid were also booked. They will be arraigned before Judge Haas today.

At the time of his arrest, however, D'Andrea asserted no laws were violated and the members of the club were playing rummy.

ALLIES PROTEST GERMANY TAKING AUSTRIAN TYROL

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]

[Copyright: 1921.]

PARIS, April 10.—[By Wireless].—An important political question has been raised by the German prepared plebiscite to be held in Austrian Tyrol on April 24, when residents will be asked to vote on the proposition of annexation to Germany. The Austrian government has forbidden the election, but local authorities of Tyrol, seemingly favorable of joining Germany, have permitted preparations for the plebiscite to continue.

This is nothing like plebiscites provided for in the Paris peace conference. It is entirely new, and in it French diplomats see the beginning of a German plan to annex Austria. That the allies will take steps to prevent consummation of the German plan goes without saying, but just how they can act effectually is rather puzzling.

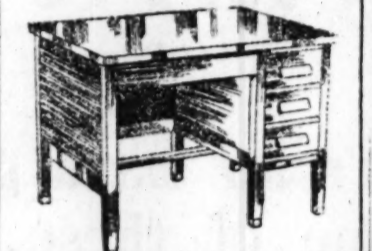

The importance of the annexation of Austrian Tyrol by Germany is not only that it would mark the establishment of a precedent which would permit other parts of Austria to join Germany, but in itself the annexation of Tyrol would give Germany a common border with Italy, something of capital importance in European relations.

It is understood the entente governments intend to call attention of the Vienna government to the plebiscite and to object strongly.

RAILROAD HEAD REBUKED FOR HIS WAGE ATTITUDE

Securities Official Calls It Intolerant.

New York, April 10.—Haley Fiske, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, and a member of the executive committee of the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities, informed A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central railroad, in a letter given out here today, that some railroads are making a mistake in their attitude toward labor.

"Your assumption," Mr. Fiske wrote, "that in seeking a conference with the labor representatives, the most important element in the present problem, we were pretending to represent you or your board, was quite unwarranted. We very frankly put our real position before these organizations and the public.

Should Get Labor's Point of View.

"We think the present truculent attitude of some railroad administrations towards the operatives and the unions a great mistake, which may lead to disaster, and that it is time that all concerned in the properties should show some conciliatory disposition, at least to the extent of endeavoring to get the point of view of labor, and to seek some method of negotiation to end the present impasse."

"Frankly, it disturbs us," Mr. Fiske added, "to have your board of directors say they represent in the present condition of affairs the stockholders without any recognition of the superior obligations of the railroad companies. It may very well be that as matters are now threatening, the stock will become a rather negligible quantity; the bonds will never become so. Our interest in your company is a vital one."

"Should Get Together."

"We have seen no disposition on your part to recognize our interests or to consult with those who, in a sense, own your property. On the contrary we have seen rather violent antagonism to our efforts to promote helpful legislation, which, now that it has been passed, some of your people are taking credit for."

"None of the railway managements has thought it wise to seek any counsel or to recognize in any way the serious situation in which we find ourselves. On the other hand you are objecting, if you will pardon us for saying so, in an offensive, not to say impertinent way, to our endeavors to protect our own investments."

"In our opinion," the letter con-

FEBRUARY SHOWS LARGE LOSS FOR U. S. RAILROADS

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—The railroads of the United States suffered a deficit in February of $7,205,000, while 106 out of 200 reporting to the interstate commerce commission failed to earn their expenses and taxes, according to the tabulations of reports just filed. In January the deficit was $1,167,500, with 109 out of 202 roads failing to make expenses and taxes.

As a result of the deficit, the carriers failed by $3,804,000 of earning the amount which it was estimated they would earn under the increased rates fixed by the interstate commerce commission in accordance with the transportation act.

Reduce Deficit 56 1/2 Per Cent.

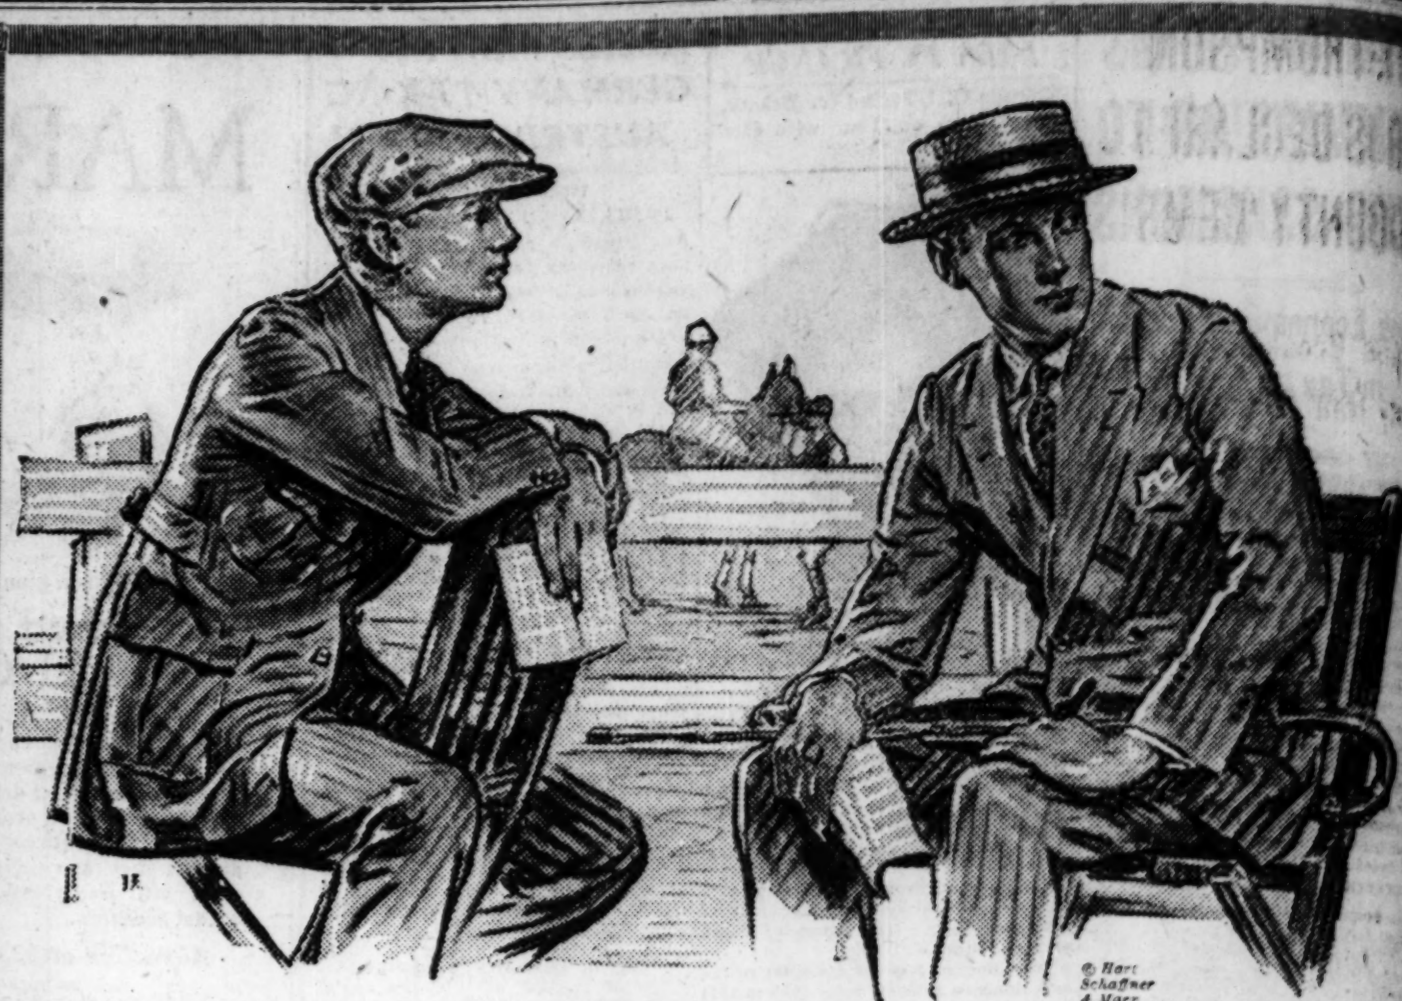

Total operating revenues for February were $406,658,000, or a decrease of 4 1/2 per cent compared with those for the same month in 1920, while total operating expenses were $385,878,000, or a decrease of 7 1/2 per cent compared with February one year ago. The net railway operating deficit, however, was reduced 56 1/2 per cent compared with that for February, 1920, at which time there was a deficit of $16,561,000. During the six months the increased rates have been effective the net railway operating income of the carriers has totaled $218,311,800, which would be at the annual rate of return of 2 1/4 per cent on their tentative valuation. On the basis of an annual return of 6 per cent, it was estimated they would earn during that period $531,688,000. During the first four months of the increased rates, that is from Sept. 7 to Jan. 1, their net operating income was at the annual rate of 2.3 per cent.

Estimates Too High.

Tabulations show that the roads fell short of receiving the amount estimated they would earn under the increased rates. Those in the eastern district failed by 14 1/2 per cent, in the southern 24 per cent, and in the western district 31 1/2 per cent.

With only the report from the Southern Pacific steamship lines lacking, total operating revenues for the carriers in the western district were $155,548,000.

Expect satisfaction here; we guarantee it or money back.

ANTI-THOMPSON WAR IS DECLARED BY COUNTY 'DEMS'

Demand Breaking of All
City Hall Alliances.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Instead of being an isolated outbreak of hostility on the part of the Democratic county committee toward the anti-Thompson forces, the patronage row in the forest preserve board last Friday was the opening skirmish in what is intended to be an anti-Thompson war all along the line.

The Democratic members of the city council have been asked to meet today with the committee. They will be told that a new policy dominates the Democratic organization in Cook county, and that in conformity with it, if they wish to remain in good standing, they must cancel all their alliances with the city hall forces and cease trading their support vote for jobs and favors.

Will Carry War to State.
In the near future the warfare will be carried farther. All the Democratic senators and representatives are to be called in and given a similar message—instructed to maintain their independence at Springfield.

The pending attempt of the committee to strengthen the opportunity to elect Thompsonism in the Circuit court election in June by backing a bipartisan ticket sponsored by the Chicago Bar association is part and parcel of the same plan of operations, and its scope is broad enough to include, as it develops, every chance to elect Thompsonism in city, county, state and national affairs.

Brennan Warns Committee.
"You're picking the wrong political platform for the future," was the warning E. Brennan last week told the county commissioners when they appeared to listen to the committee's decision concerning the deal some of them had made with the Lundin-Thompson commissioners from the county towns.

And that is what is to be told the aldermen, representatives, and senators—that the county committee, with an expert ear to the ground, is concerned the Lundin-Thompson organization has reached the peak of its success and the process of disintegration has set in.

JOHN S. WILLIAMS.

Columbus, Ga., April 10.—(Special.)—The jury which heard the evidence in the peonage trial of John S. Williams, planter, accused of killing eleven Negroes, and on trial for the slaying of one of them, brought in a verdict of guilty, with life sentence, but urged "mercy" on the court. Today's Enquirer-Sun has the following editorial by Thomas W. Loveless:

"A Newton county jury has tried John S. Williams, the Jasper county multi-murderer, found him guilty, and recommended him to the mercy of the court. By what process of reasoning the jury arrived at this form of verdict is difficult to imagine. This is, if we try to analyze it by any process of reasoning, but if we brush aside all subterfuge and hypocrisy and tell the plain truth about it, the verdict—as great a travesty of justice as it is—is not so difficult to understand.

"And this plain truth is we have not yet reached that state of grace, or of justice, in Georgia where we 'hang a white man for killing a nigger,' as the expression is and has long been. 'However, the owner and operator of this Georgia 'murder farm' escapes with his own life—a penitentiary sentence—and perhaps a pardon later on if he lives long enough and his family can bring enough influence to bear. 'Thus do we again 'advertise Georgia.' God help her."

$6,500,000 TAX RAISE IS UP TO COUNCIL TODAY

Probably Will Ask O.
K. of State.

This morning the council finance committee and this afternoon the council itself are scheduled to decide whether they will ask the legislature for $6,500,000 additional with which to operate the municipality. The chances are they will make the request.

The big argument for it is: "The people have approved of it." This approval was registered, in the opinion of certain aldermen and administrative officials, when the voters on Feb. 22 last approved a bond issue of $3,000,000 to pay the city's floating indebtedness. This was alleged to have been composed of a deficit of $6,500,000 of last year and other debts.

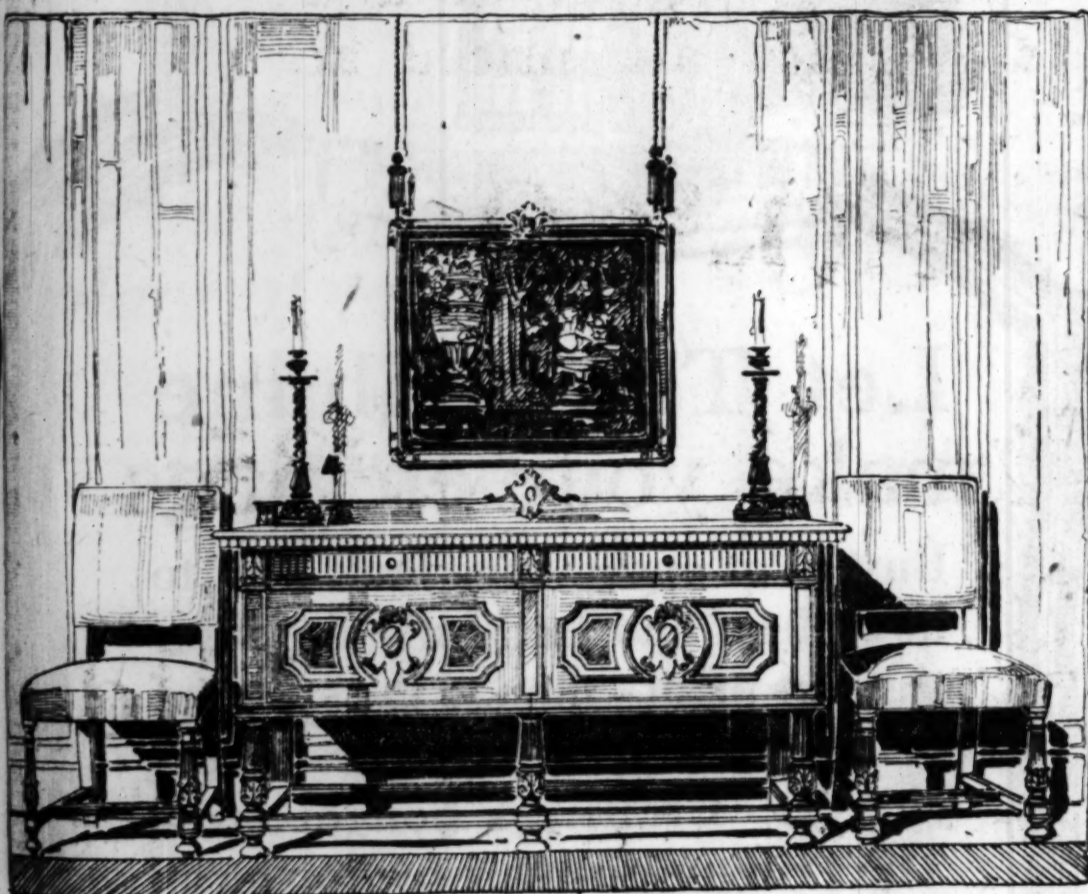

Expenditures Approved, Is Plea.
Therefore the advocates of the $6,500,000 tax increase reason that the people approve of the expenditures of last year, and their request will permit the city to operate on that same basis. However, it has been operating this year at a rate which would create a much larger deficit.

The plan is to ask for a tax rate increase from $1.45 1-2 to $1.85 by an indirect method. Openly they propose to ask for an increased income of $6,500,000, which represents the net difference between the two tax rates. This roundabout way is to be used so aldermen and officials may say later that they did not ask for a boost in taxes.

Tax Raise Camouflaged.
In addition to this proposed 41.23 cents increase for the corporate fund proper, there is another bill before the legislature to increase the library tax 4.23 cents, another to increase police pensions 9 cents, and still another to create a new tax of 50 cents for playgrounds and remove them from the jurisdiction of the city to the board of education.

Ordinarily in Chicago city taxes include every municipal function except the board of education. The above increases in city rates mean additional tax extensions of $19,444,532 on the present valuations. The tax extensions will be boosted as the valuations are increased with added property. It is conservatively estimated that there is $100,000,000 worth of new buildings ready to be erected as soon as there is a break in prices.

CHIEF WILL ZONE CITY IN WAR ON AUTO STEALING

Stop Car Thefts and End Banditry, His Slogan.

Orders will be issued today by Chief of Police Fitzmorris which he believes will build up an organization able to cope with automobile and auto accessories thieves and the bandits who use automobiles in their operations.

By the chief's orders, ten zones will be created in Chicago. To each zone will be allotted a certain number of motorcycle policemen. The chief intends to fight auto thieves with motorcycle men.

Sergeant in Charge of Each Zone.

There will be a sergeant in charge of each zone, and the ten sergeants will be under the direction of Lieut. John Daugherty. The automobile section, in charge of Sergt. George E. O'Connor, will be expert tracers, the motorcycle men in command of Sergt. Andrew Smith, and the vehicle bureau under Sergt. James Kilacky will be combined in the auto thief campaign.

There are forty-three men in the motorcycle division, thirty in the vehicle bureau, and nineteen in the auto section. Additional men will be assigned to the chief.

The commander of each zone will be held accountable for his territory. The officers will pull a box every hour and give the lists of cars stolen, reports of activities of holdup men, and other information that may be needed by them.

Ready for Instant Service.

When pay roll robbers get away as fast as after killing a policeman or the entire motorcycle corps, already mobilized and waiting, will be given the news—and hazards of the chase will be multiplied by the number of motorcycle men on duty.

"By the stealing of automobiles," the chief says, "and you automatically rob the banks, the payroll clerks, and the automobile crimes generally. You also cut down the number of serious auto accidents."

Fifteen automobiles were reported stolen during the twenty-four hours ending yesterday.

Police Act on Clew; Get Two Men; $5,000 in Loot

"If you search the home of Howard Caughey, 1150 West Sixty-third street," Lieut. Michael Hughes was told Saturday night, "you'll find about $25,000 worth of merchandise stolen from stores and freight cars."

At 2 o'clock yesterday morning, Lieut. John W. Norton, and Detective Sergeants Burke, Egan, O'Connor, and others, found Caughey and James St. Clair in the house. They had a loaded revolver.

The detectives then learned the two men had a barn near May and Sixty-first streets. In it they found about $5,000 worth of tires and automobile accessories. They arrested Caughey and St. Clair.

MANY NEW LAWS ASKED TO CHECK ILLINOIS CRIME

A law which would make the stealing of an automobile, motor car, or motor truck a specific felony punishable by not less than two years nor more than fifteen years in the penitentiary is the latest remedial legislation advocated by the Chicago Crime commission.

Arguments in favor of this bill will be presented to the house judicial committee next Wednesday by Edwin W. Ims, president, and Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the Chicago Crime commission, and either State's Attorney Crowe or a representative from his office.

Twelve other proposed bills which the Chicago Crime commission believes will aid in combating crime in Chicago and the state will be discussed in committees at that time. Representatives of several reform organizations are expected to go to Springfield to urge the passage of the bills.

Main Points of Bills Sought.

The high lights of the proposed bills are:

That minors found guilty of robbery while armed with a deadly weapon, or with a confederate present so armed, shall be held equally guilty even if only one had a weapon, and be sentenced to the penitentiary and not to the reformatory.

That jurors in criminal cases be made judges of fact only. Now jurors are judges of both law and facts.

That highway robbers while armed with a firearm, or with a confederate present so armed, shall be punished by life imprisonment.

That the term of imprisonment provided for burglary be five to twenty years. Now it is one to twenty years; if committed at night, ten to twenty-five years, now five to twenty-five years, and if armed with a deadly weapon or drug, not less than twenty-five years.

That all officers required to take bail upon any writ or process must examine into the sufficiency of the bail, and have such examination reduced to writing, sworn to, and filed with the bond accepted as bail.

Case Shows Law's Defect.

The need of a law carefully interpreting the status of robbers when one has a gun and the others are unarmed was called to the attention of State's Attorney Crowe last week by Judge Joseph B. David. A jury in his court found two men guilty of robbery with a gun and sentenced them to from ten years to life. Another bandit, who was in on the robbery, but who did not carry a gun, was sentenced to from three to twenty years. Judge David criticized the jury for not finding all three guilty of the same charge.

Under the new laws, Arthur Benson, 30, who on Saturday was sent to Pontiac for robbery with a gun, would have been committed to Joliet.

Cites Need of Auto Law.

Commenting on the proposed automobile law, Mr. Chamberlin declared the theft of an automobile should be just as specific a crime as horse stealing.

"Under the present laws, the man who steals an auto may be tried for larceny, or plain robbery," he said. "He may escape with only a light punishment. The new bill would make every theft punishable with from two to fifteen years. If a gun was used in the robbery, the bandit could be indicted on both counts."

The new automobile theft bill makes it the duty of every person operating a public garage to keep a record of the license and engine numbers of all motor vehicles taken for sale, storage or repair. It makes the alteration or obliteration of the engine number prima facie evidence of larceny of a vehicle. Fines of from $100 to $500 are provided for those who break the regulations.

Summary of Other Bills.

The other bills provide in part: Imprisonment of from one to ten years for persons convicted of larceny when the property is stolen from the person of another, regardless of value of stolen property.

The selection by the judges of the courts of record of each county containing more than 250,000 inhabitants of three jury commissioners to serve three year terms.

That persons convicted of felony or misdemeanor who have previously been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor five times may be adjudged habitual criminals and deprived of their vote.

That the attorney general shall be caused to collect fines when any state's attorney or justice of the peace shall refuse or neglect to enforce the collection of any fines or any other penalties within six months after they have been imposed or incurred. The distributable school fund would receive the money.

Attractive New Brassieres to Wear with Spring Corsets

THE vogue of topless Corsets and the slim, flat silhouette demand most carefully designed and fitted brassieres. Nearly every figure, even though slender, is more graceful and youthful when the upper figure is properly fitted with bandeaux or brassieres. Slim, youthful lines, unconfined ease and that well-groomed, trig look demanded by the season's mode are maintained.

Dainty laces, embroideries, crepe de chine, satin, silk tricot and mesh fashion these garments.

For the woman of fuller figure are shown bandeaux and brassieres of firm mesh and net lined lace. Some have bands of elastic and broche to care for the diaphragm.

Three distinctly new models are sketched:

1. Pink silk tricot with triple elastic band for large figures with full diaphragm. Flattens the front and holds back the diaphragm without raising the bust. Priced $7.50.
2. Dainty net lined lace bandeaux for slight figures. Pink ribbon and French flowers add to its attractiveness. Priced $6.50.

When in doubt as to the appointed place of meeting, after the theater, try Henrici's first

Almost everyone goes to Henrici's, after the theater, at least once in a while. It is at that hour the great gathering place for those of, and others interested in, the stage.

Quite as a matter of course, since Henrici's is the restaurant most favored by patronage for breakfast, luncheon and evening dinner, it is also most in favor after the theater.

WHAT SALES TAX IS, AS DEFINED BY SENATOR SMOOT

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(Special.)—Text of the sales tax bill to be introduced by Senator Smoot, Utah, in the senate tomorrow was made public tonight.

The bill imposes a tax of 1 per cent on all turnovers, with an annual exemption of $5,000, the effect of this being to exempt smaller farmers and tradesmen. It has been estimated that the 1 per cent would yield more than $2,000,000,000 annually.

In a statement in behalf of the plan, Senator Smoot says its advantages are extreme simplicity of assessment and collection, a low tax rate, applying uniformly on all commodities, and absence of complicated features which make it difficult for the taxpayer to know at any time what his tax liability is.

While the bill, as it will be introduced, provides for a tax of 1 per cent, the senator indicates the rate might be limited to one-half of 1 per cent, or other alternatives might be adopted. In his statement he proposes three alternative propositions, as follows:

1. A rate of one-half of 1 per cent, but not to exceed 1 per cent, on all sales, without distinction of integrated or unintegrated concerns.
2. A rate of three-fourths of 1 per cent, but not to exceed 1 1/4 per cent, with a credit for taxes previously paid on goods bought for resale.
3. A rate of 1 per cent, but not to exceed 2 per cent, without distinction of integrated or unintegrated concerns, but exemption for each dealer on the first $50,000 of annual sales.

Sales Tax Is Defined.

Senator Smoot defines the proposed general sales tax as follows:

"A tax on the gross value of goods, wares, and merchandise, whether raw material or manufactured, or partially manufactured products, whether of domestic or of foreign origin, and such as are generally sold or exchanged and delivered for domestic consumption, whether in barter or on a cash basis, shall accrue at the time of sale or lease of all such goods, wares, and merchandise, at a rate of 1 per cent of their total value at the time of such change of ownership. The tax also applies to the total amount or amounts received on all leases of goods, wares, and merchandise."

To Pay Levy Quarterly.

Merchants and others making sales subject to the tax would make quarterly payments to the government. The bill exempts sales and leases made by the federal government, states and municipalities, foreign governments, mutual ditch or irrigation companies and hospitals and other corporations organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, or educational purposes, and also goods sold or leased for export.

The sales tax does not apply to beverages, cigars, and tobacco on which taxes already are imposed by titles VI and VII of the present revenue act.

Autos Not Included.

Also it does not apply to a few commodities on which there is now an excise tax and which is not repealed by the bill, such as automobiles, automobiles, trucks and wagons, motorcycles and tires, parts and accessories, yachts and motor boats.

Senator Smoot says that the turnover tax will be shifted to the ultimate consumer, but he contends that the final increased price of a commodity which has passed through half a dozen hands will not be more than 1/2 per cent.

FOUR YARDS GAUZE LEFT IN HER, SUES DOCTOR FOR $50,000

Miss Catherine O'Malley, a telephone operator, has brought suit for $50,000 damages against Dr. Frederick Seville of 3360 West Monroe street, charging malpractice. Through her attorney, W. E. O'Brien, she declares Dr. Seville left four yards of gauze in the wound after operating on her for appendicitis Nov. 1, 1919; that in operating a second time to remove the gauze he took out only one yard; and that after suffering and being unable to work she called in another surgeon, who took out the remaining three yards.

Miss O'Malley lives at 417 South Homan avenue.

GET OUT BROOMS, RAKES; CLEANUP WEEK IS AT HAND

Chicago's annual cleanup week has graduated to the title of Health Promotion Week which is to be observed throughout the state beginning next Sunday. A proclamation issued by Gov. Small calling upon residents of every city, town and village to observe the week of April 17 to 23 not only in cleaning up all unsightly spots but to study and disseminate every phase of health activity was made public yesterday.

The governor's appeal reads:

"I urge upon our people and especially upon the public schools and civic bodies of the state a whole hearted participation in the observance of this week to the end that the results obtained may be of lasting benefit. Further, I designate the state department of public health as the agency to outline a suitable program for health promotion and I suggest that our citizens communicate freely with the director of health, in order that the greatest possible benefit may accrue from these seven days of health promotion week."

The program for the week beginning next Sunday will start with health sermons by clergymen in the churches and superintendents in Sunday schools. The following designates the activities for the remainder of the week:

MONDAY—Community cleanup day. Cleaning of homes, yards, vacant lots, alleys, and burning of rubbish.

TUESDAY—Fly, insect, and rat extermination day.

WEDNESDAY—Better baby day. Lectures at civic centers on the care of infants.

THURSDAY—Birth registration day. Parents who have not registered the birth of their children are urged to do so at once.

FRIDAY—School children's day. Health lectures and discussions in all public and parochial schools.

SATURDAY—Medical examination day. The purpose is to have people who haven't been near a physician for years take stock of their present physical condition.

Spurred by the offer of a prize, a bronze bust of Theodore Roosevelt, by the Association of Commerce, high school units have organized and started on the cleanup feature of the campaign.

Most Successful Millinery Modes In Charming and Original Interpretation

No fashion in hats, however universally favored, can become commonplace if adapted with the artistry which goes into the creation of millinery one finds here.

This is delightfully proved by the hats in this group—

*Smart Black-and-White Hats
Hats with Bright Ribbons
Sports Hats, Embroidered,
New Hats with Fruits*

Flower-decked sailors are noted in this presentation, and street hats all of silver-edged ribbons.

And each hat evidences an artistic touch which gives it distinction far above the ordinary, and achieves that individuality which is the deciding factor of finer fashions in millinery.

Coats, Suits and Frocks, All the New Modes

For Women and Misses, Developed in the Finer Fabrics and Most Interestingly Priced

Their success is assured, so theirs will be a lasting smartness. Fabrics and workmanship are superior and only unusually skillful selection could result in such all-inclusive groups so moderately priced.

A Special Group of Suits, Strictly Tailored, Braided, or Embroidered, at $85

Of piquette and tricotine—weaves much favored for the success with which they may be adapted to this spring's tailored modes. Misses' suits evidence a delightful originality of detail. A suit for misses is sketched at the right center.

Coats of Rich Fabric Priced $85 and $95

They have the air of being individually designed usually seen in coats higher priced. In the misses' coat, sketched, second at right, the gathered back, the sleeves and metal belt are clever features. Of tan or blue tricotine, $95.

At the right is a woman's coat of vel de cygne in the newer street shades, with a smart arrangement of paneling and stitching. In the desired street shades. $85.

Fourth Floor, North and South.

These modes are in the materials most desired, and color-tones distinctive of this spring. Garniture is applied with exceptionally good taste. Nothing is lacking to make selection a success.

For women, six different suit styles at this pricing in a group which includes the smartest versions of straight, belted or flaring coats. In navy blue and the much desired wren shades. Women's suit sketched, left.

Frocks of Canton Crepe Priced $60 and $75

With the mark of more distinguished fashions. For example, the misses' frock, second from left, is a skillful adaptation of a French model. The worsted stitching is unusual. In brown with beige or gray with navy blue. $75.

A woman's frock, at the left center, presents two extremely desirable features, eyelet embroidery and an apron tunic. In navy blue or brown. $60.

The Newest Spring Silks

Their Low Pricing Is an Added Advantage

To choose silks here has come to mean, to women who are keen judges of good economy, the new, excellent in quality, at prices of decided advantage. Typical instances are cited here.

Bank Robber, Sentenced

—Marion— Eddie Kelley, who derives his nickname from the fact that he was born in President Harding's home town, was convicted of bank robbery in Winchester, Ind., Friday, and sentenced to a year in the penitentiary, according to a telegram received by the police yesterday. Kelley was arrested in Chicago in January. He and his gang are said to have cost casualty companies $2,000,000 because of their bank robberies.

WOES OF FADING YALE TEAMS LAID TO MOTHER EARTH

New Haven, Conn., April 10.—[Special.]—Yale has lost its athletic supremacy, according to Eugene A. Crilly, expert in chemistry of Litchfield county, because the soil of Connecticut has become exhausted and the Yale athletes, as well as other persons who feed upon its products, have become a race of less vitality.

Because the soil of the middle west contained greater power of nourishment the athletes of the middle west universities were supreme for years, he says. Many of them, such as Heflinger, Dutch Goebel, Wally Winters, Jack Greenway, and Tom Shevlin, won Yale some of its greatest athletic victories.

Poor Old Middle West.

Now, however, since the middle west has become less productive, he declares the athletes of the Pacific slope, whose soil is still at the highest point of productivity, are at present supreme in intercollegiate competition.

Dr. Crilly thinks an investigation might be profitably made into professional athletics of the baseball diamonds, the prize ring and other branches of sport, for confirmation of his theory.

The soil of the Pacific states is best fitted, he says, to turn out national champions not only in physical but also intellectual lines.

See Rays of Hope.

Dr. Crilly believes that while Connecticut soil may perhaps not be returned to its former strength, it can be greatly improved, and he has requested Gov. Everett Lake, a former Harvard athlete, to urge the legislature to extend the state reclamation act by furnishing land and legumes to the farmers of the state.

"It is impossible for athletes from Yale, Trinity, or Wesleyan colleges to be properly trained for their games unless they are fed the proper legumes and receive the adequate vitamins,"

Dr. Crilly said today. "If the personal training for Yale teams could be fed the proper legumes, there is no doubt Yale would regain its athletic supremacy."

JACK DEMPSEY STARTS EAST TO DO HIS TRAINING

Seattle, Wash., April 10.—Champion Jack Dempsey and his party departed today for New York, where Dempsey will go into training for his fight with Georges Carpentier.

Commenting on the location selected for the fight Jack said:

"I guess Kearns has looked over the training camps around the Jersey sites and will have a good place when I get there. I have a little personal business which will take a few days and then I will be ready to open my camp. I have been reasonably busy on my theatrical trip and can be in fighting trim in short order, but I will be in the best of shape—of that you may be assured—for Carpentier is a worthy opponent."

MRS. RINEHART RING PROMOTER

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 10.—[Special.]—Wealthy society women promise to outshine Anne Morgan Turner in the ring when they will stage six fights for the benefit of the American Legion post of Sewickley. Mary Roberts Rinehart is among the promoters. So are the Rev. A. C. Howell, rector of the Sewickley Protestant Episcopal church, and the Rev. William P. Curtin, pastor of St. James Catholic church of Sewickley.

The pugilistic stars who are to provide the fight display include Johnnie Ray, Buck Crouse, Jack McAllister, Fay Keyser, Val Grunau, Jack Perry, Danny Dillon, Patsy Scanlon, Irish Chick Rodgers, Patsy Young, Mike Moran, and Young Henry.

GASOLINE ALLEY—MERELY A LITTLE DETAIL

SPORTS through Edgren's EYES

BY ROBERT EDGREN.

FEW months ago there was a rumor Georges Carpentier's forfeit had been properly posted, giving Tex Rickard's partners an excuse to draw out of promoting the Dempsey-Carpentier match. As stakeholder I knew Carpentier's forfeit had been posted Nov. 20, 1920, according to contract, with Morgan Harjes in Paris, acting as agent for the Central Union Trust company of New York, and that the French government wouldn't hinder the forwarding of the securities to New York.

Wishing to have all the forfeits together in New York at least two months before the fight date I asked the Central Union Trust company to cable Carpentier's securities. Within twenty-four hours Morgan Harjes cabled back:

"Sending securities today's mail."

Carpentier's securities posted to guarantee his $50,000 forfeit, by the way, are worth $54,000 at today's quotations. This ought to stop any rumor that Georges isn't anxious to fight Dempsey, as well as the amusing story that "Carpentier" is trying to draw down his forfeit."

Dempsey's forfeit bond was taken out Nov. 20, as was Tex Rickard's first bond for one-third of the promoter's forfeit of $100,000. When Rickard took over the match he posted $66,667 in cash with the trust company, in addition to his original bond. Tex had the privilege of taking out a bond instead of posting cash, but didn't bother with it. A little cash like that is nothing in Tex's life.

Not Scheduled for New York.

The governor of New York made a public statement that he was "opposed" to having the Carpentier-Dempsey match held in New York state.

Funny thing about this is why the governor should waste so much energy "opposing" the holding of a bout that wasn't scheduled for New York, and that Tex Rickard would not under any circumstances hold in New York state.

Governors have a habit of taking a slam at anything in the sporting line.

CAPABLANCA WINNER IN TENTH CLASH FOR WORLD CHESS TITLE

HAVANA, April 10.—José de Capablanca, Cuban chess master, won the tenth game of the world's championship match with Dr. Emanuel Lasker tonight. Dr. Lasker resigned after the sixty-eighth move.

Capablanca now has won two games, Lasker none, and eight have been drawn.

Dr. Lasker admitted soon after play began to night that he had lost, but he did not resign at once, because, he explained, he and the chess public were anxious to know how Capablanca would force the pieces. The play:

Queens gambit declined. LASKER. CAPABLANCA (Black).

Just why a fine sporting event like the Carpentier-Dempsey match should be singled out for attack is a puzzle. The vast majority of men in New York state are interested in boxing, and are especially interested in the big match. Carpentier and Dempsey are among the most skilled boxers in the world, each supreme in his class and among his countrymen. Both are decent, clean living, well trained men. A contest between the two will be a ring classic. Why should there be opposition to a bout between first class boxers, who there are a hundred small matches between men of far less skill every week? Easy. The limelight that the professional "reformer" loves doesn't shine on the little bouts.

The governor alludes to "crookedness" in professional sport. There's talk of shoving through a new bill providing for a commission to oversee all sports. Why should there be a state commission to govern athletics?

Easy again. More patronage, boys. There's also talk of abolishing the present boxing commission. Politics, for once in the history of the sport, New York has a square, honest commission. There hasn't been a hint of a scandal. The commission have done their best, consistently, to have clean boxing, and have succeeded. There has been no "crookedness" in boxing.

If the governor wanted to appoint a wrestling commission, now, that would be something else again. If there ever was a crooked game that needed to be straightened out with a yank it's wrestling, as conducted on street principles. But there isn't any wrestling match that compares with a Carpentier-Dempsey match for limelight.

Big Loss in Taxes.

New Jersey is going to have a good laugh at New York when the Carpentier-Dempsey match goes on. New York might have had about $100,000 in state taxes on that fight. The money goes with the bout, wherever the bout goes. And but for the doubt Tex Rickard had about getting a fair and square deal in New York state, he might never have considered taking the match even across the river.

VOX POP ON SILVER TROUT.

ROCKFORD, Ill.—[To the Editor.]—Your article of March 21 on silver trout being planted in Wisconsin was of much interest to me, as I have taken many of them from the waters of Lake Whatcom near Bellingham, Wash., no doubt the original home of the silvers.

The silvers I know run from eight to ten inches in length and not over twelve ounces in weight and have a few black spots on a dark green ground, shading to a bright silver on sides and belly. The tail looks forked, but when pulled out forms an arc.

They travel in schools and first appear about July 1 around the docks and landings, mixing with the steelheads and cutthroats. They disappear about Aug. 15 and are next seen the last part of October, when they ascend the creeks to spawn, at which time they are red in color on the back and the silver has turned to a dirty white. They have a heavy scale as a salmon.

Mr. Austin of Bellingham sent a pair taken in July and a pair taken in November to the Smithsonian institution several years ago for examination and it was decided that they were landlocked rummy salmon, degenerated. I have compared the silvers with humpys taken from traps in Puget sound in July and in November when they were spawning miles up the Skagit river, and the two were alike. Head formation, gills, scales, color, spots, and tails; also both swell back of the head when spawning.

I think the fish that your friend, Mr. Harris, writes of must be the silver salmon that runs up the Columbia and all the rivers of the coast. They run up to six and seven pounds and will give any rod or line a good workout. WALTER B. TAYLOR JR.

AUSTRALASIANS TO GATHER NEW DAVIS CUP TEAM

[Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.]

SYDNEY, New South Wales, April 10.—The Australasian Lawn Tennis association has decided to adhere to representation in the Davis cup championship, according to its challenge, despite the fact that Norman Brookes, Gerald Patterson, O'Hara Wood, R. U. Thomas, and Heath will be unavailable for the team this year. Brookes, who is selector of the team, recommends that players be chosen from among Hawkes, Anderson, Peck, and Todd, after interstate matches and the New South Wales championship tournament in April.

Mike Gibbons to Battle Wiggins in Minneapolis

Minneapolis, Minn., April 10.—Mike Gibbons, St. Paul middleweight boxer, has been signed for a ten round bout here April 21 or 22 with Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis.

HY KOCKLER SIGNS TO RIDE IN BIKE RACES ON EASTERN TRACKS

Ernest "Hy" Kockler, who teamed with Freddie Hill of Boston and finished second in the six day bicycle race which closed at the Dexter Park pavilion here Saturday night when Eddie Madden and Jake Magin of Newark were the victors, has signed a contract with George Young to ride on the eastern circuit this summer. Bike races will be held in the velodrome in New York city and at the new track being constructed in Newark.

As a result of the packed house which saw the finish of the six day grind, about $5,000 was realized on the race. The event was conducted by Tommy Pulte, Harry E. Thompson, Thomas J. Ryan, and John W. Smith, well known stockyards men who are deserving of a lot of credit for the manner in which the event was staged. They may put on another race next winter.

Jimmy Murphy Captures Nail. A. A. A. Speed Title

Los Angeles, Cal., April 10.—Jimmy Murphy won the National A. A. A. automobile races at the Los Angeles speedway today. He took the fourth heat of 25 miles in 13:39.5, an average of 107.3 miles an hour, and the final heat of 50 miles in 27:27.45, an average of 109.55 miles an hour.

Paul Hunter Beats Bob for Southern California Title

Los Angeles, Cal., April 10.—Dr. Paul Hunter, Los Angeles, state amateur champion, today won the Southern California amateur golf championship, by defeating his cousin, Robert Hunter, also of Los Angeles, 5 and 4, at the Los Angeles Country club.

THOMAS' SQUAD TAKES MONTHLY SO. SHORE SHOOT

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Shooting in the face of a strong wind, which caused the targets to jump, the squad captained by Dave Thomas yesterday won the fourth monthly team shoot of the South Shore Country club by scores 459 "kills." The team led by A. H. Winkler was second with 447.

Contestants on the two teams were divided into two equal groups, each of five men. The targets were set at 100 yards. The team led by A. H. Winkler was second with 447.

Three Tie in Handicap.

A. H. Winkler, J. F. Goodrich, and Fred Bills tied for honors in the opening event at twenty-five birds, added target handicap, with percentages of 96. George Roll took the twenty-five pairs, added target handicap, with 93. The shooters participated in the events. Scores:

Billiard Notes

BY JOE DAVIS.

CHICAGO'S chances of regaining the state amateur billiard championship appear to be good. D. Martin of Emmett, Minn., who defeated in the semi-finals at Chicago, will meet Champion Clifford Gage in the final series at Champaign, Ill., on Saturday.

Gage won his title here last year when he defeated Ray Holt. Holt was defeated in Section 1 this year, but lost behind Martin and James P. body.

Martin played the strongest game of the two sections of the semi-finals, beating a grand average of over 100 in the other section average close to 4.

Willie Hoppe finished his season tour at Champaign Thursday night and returned to New York. Starting October the champion missed three days, and with Charley Peterson and his fancy shots as a big attraction, the tour was played to something around $70,000, which breaks records for touring billiards.

A tournament to determine the new northwest side will be started at the bank's room, Division and Western avenue, tonight at 8:30. Four players entered.

GOOD NEWS FOR LOCAL CHAMPS OF PREP DIAMONDS

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—High school boys of Chicago may be interested to know that young Lou Gherig will not be playing on the champion high school baseball team of New York this spring.

The boys at Lane Tech will remember young Gherig, the husky baseballer of the High School of Commerce team which trimmed Lane of Cues park last June. He was coached by the team's last season over the fence in the ninth with bases filled.

Gherig now is a student at Columbia but is not eligible to play with varsity this year. In a practice game last week he hit two home runs.

SEATTLE ANNEXES 22 INNINGS GAME

Los Angeles, Cal., April 10.—In twenty-two innings Seattle defeated Los Angeles, 12 to 8, in the first game of a scheduled double header today. The second game was postponed because of darkness.

The Angels and Siwash were tied in the ninth, 6 to 6, and again in the seventeenth, 7 to 7. In the twenty-second the visitors made five runs and the Angels one. Score:

Seattle..... 12
Los Angeles..... 8

Batteries—Gears, Francis Schwartz, and Tolson, Adams, Grindall, Thomas, J. Wallace and Baldwin, Stange.

AMERICAN GIANTS, 2; MEMPHIS, 1

Memphis, Tenn., April 10.—[Special.]—American Giants Chicago, defeated the local A. P. Martin Barber College team here today 2 to 1, in eleven innings.

PARADOXES OF FINANCE LAID TO U.S. POLICY

The New York Times.

New York, April 10.—(Special.)—

The week's alternating movements on the stock exchange with prices rising and then falling again when money was called money rates declined to 17, proves that even in a speculative stock market as now exists the immediate dominant influence is the money market. But that does not make the general situation any easier to read. On the contrary, the failure of money rates to relax distinctly, notwithstanding the huge flow of foreign gold and the rising reserve bank ratios, has served to increase perplexity.

The past week's signs of greater ease in the Wall Street money market, but with rates nevertheless held at exceptionally high figures for this season, have seemed again to the utterly abnormal character of the situation. The piling up of gold in the New York Federal reserve bank, through transfers from foreign countries, is itself a logical enough incident in the light of present experience.

Reaction in the money market caused by the sale of bonds by the government to the central money market, and the sale of bonds by the government to the central money market, is a logical enough incident in the light of present experience.

EXPORTERS BUY WHEAT FAIRLY AS PRICES DROP

By CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Export buying of wheat is gradually absorbing the surplus of the old crop and advancing into the new to a fair extent. Based on latest estimates of the department of agriculture, the United States will not carry over more than 40,000,000 bu. on July 1. This in the face of imports of 40,000,000 bu. of Canadian wheat indicates that were it not for such imports the United States would be without reserves.

With 20,000,000 bu. of wheat in the United States on March 1, including 40,000,000 bu. imported from Canada, and deducting 200,000,000 bu. for consumption and seed, and probable exports of 80,000,000 bu., there would be a carry-over July 1 of 40,000,000 bu., while the average of recent years is 70,000,000 bu. We have exported more wheat in any previous year, March 1, 1921, than in any previous year.

Wheat Surplus Low.
In the face of this close adjustment of supplies to requirements, with 20,000,000 bu. of wheat sold abroad that have not been carried over, but are included in the estimate of 40,000,000 bu. to be exported, foreign buying has not acted as a good stimulus for higher prices. This is due to the light speculative trade, and to the absence of any buying enthusiasm or bullish sentiment.

Low prices for wheat for July delivery mean $1.00 for the producer in Illinois, and $1.05 to $1.10 for the exporter. The wheat is based on expectations of a good winter wheat crop, although the latter has a great deal to go through in the next few months.

A government report given out last week suggested 21,000,000 bu. figured on the lowest part basis of the season, and allowing for average losses and abandonment to harvest. There could be a good reduction in the condition and with a small loss, which is indicated in the acreage, there would still be more wheat for harvest than is indicated at present. A year ago conditions were the lowest in April for many years, 75. Yet they improved, and the harvest was 53,000,000 bu., or nearly 100,000,000 bu. more than the April estimate.

When crop yields are high in April they are not always maintained, and lower conditions frequently become better to yield to harvest. Many things can happen to the winter wheat crop, but with a yield of 20,000,000 bu. in spring, there would be 200,000,000 bu. for the season, or enough for domestic requirements and a liberal export trade. Last year the total wheat crop was 78,000,000 bu.

Argentine Competition to Come.
Export business of the future is regarded as likely to meet increased competition. Argentina is exporting wheat freely, and holders there show a readiness to sell. It would be no surprise to see new crop Argentine wheat competing with Argentine in foreign markets unless there is a decided betterment in general business, high prices are not to be considered.

Farmers in the southwest who refused $1.50 and held for $2.00 for their wheat, are now selling freely at $1.20 to $1.40. Their advisers were radically wrong in their ideas of prices last year and may be again.

In Oklahoma they are only getting $1.20 to $1.25. Farmers west of the Missouri river and in the northwest worked hard at the market method conference here last week for the plan to pool one third of the crop in the leading states this year, and finally on a sales agency plan.

Getting Back to Normal.
European countries are getting back to normal. The International Institute of Agriculture announces that winter wheat acreage is a full average in Belgium, Bulgaria, France, Spain, England, Great Britain, and Norway. With improved yields in Europe import requirements are reduced, and the surplus produced countries which depend upon Europe to buy their grain have to come to terms more sharply than at time since the European war started in August, 1914.

Now comes the colossal job of picking the sixty prettiest girls in the central west to share $20,000. The greatest cash prize beauty contest ever conducted closed at midnight Saturday, April 9. And now sixty girls stand on the brink of a share in the huge melon. Ten thousand dollars will be awarded as a grand prize to the most beautiful of the sixty girls. And in addition, ten prizes will be distributed in each of the six territorial divisions—the city of Chicago, Illinois outside of Chicago, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin. The first prize in each of these divisions will be $1,000, the second $250, the third $100, and the remaining seven $50 each. The three judges who are to work on the job of deciding to whom the awards go are finding the task no simple one, although they have dealt in beauty all their lives. They are Pauline Palmer, president of the Chicago Society of Artists, and one of America's most talented painters; Albin Polasek, head of the department of sculpture at the Art Institute and winner of many prizes as a sculptor; and J. Wellington Reynolds, Art Institute instructor in painting, whose work has been exhibited in the art centers of the world. The first prize winners will be announced Sunday, April 24. Watch and see if you are among the lucky ones. Even though your picture has not appeared in the columns of this Tribune you still may be chosen as one of the winners.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

Antoinette
 RUTH: IT IS HARD to say what color rouge you want without a look at you. You are at the beauty shop, surrounded by the one who is fixing you up. Several rouges and eye shadows are put into your skin test. It is experimenting thus you can get the right shade.

E. J. FOR SORE AND loused feet the following will help: A handful of salt water in a half gallon of hot water. The feet in this for half an hour and night until the calluses are away easily. You can rub pumice stones, and scuffs with oil and cold cream, but do not. Blisters should be prevented by collision to protect the skin and the friction of the shoe.

SUFFERER: THE REMOVAL of superfluous hair must be done by electrolysis to be satisfactory and permanent. It must be carried out by a skillful person. If too much electricity is used, blisters and scuffs will result. If too little, the hair will grow back. Heredity is the most frequent cause in this trouble. Prolonged use of acne will cause it.

GENE: IT IS TRUE THAT many instances of constipation are a tributary condition of pimples and acne. Yeast has been found to be a corrective measure of constipation and facial eruptions. It can be eaten just as it comes in the tin or it may be taken dissolved in water, beef tea or fruit juice. It may also be spread on cream bread. Persons troubled with constipation are advised to dissolve the yeast in warm water before taking it. A cake three times a day, before and between meals, is a fair dosage.

UPTONIA: CLEAN THE face well with water or a solution of acid. If it is clean, it is clean. It may be a sign of strain and a warning that glasses are required.

MRS. P. AS SOME ONE has remarked, "Life is a process of adjustment. From our birth one has to adjust to the world. To adjust to the world, one must have the same way we must make adjustments, otherwise things will be morbid, overexcitable and worked."

ELECTRIC CLOTHES WASHER

Let the Blue Bird wash the clothes while the breakfast dishes are being finished and the house cleaned. Then wring out the clothes with the electric wringer—and they'll be on the line to dry early.

All the unpleasantness of wash day is ended. One is still fresh—and practically the whole day ahead!

Heavy blankets and the finest lingerie are handled with equal care. It is surprising how much longer clothes wear when washed this new way.

They are operated with remarkable ease. We will be glad to demonstrate the Blue Bird in your own home without obligation.

The Blue Bird may be purchased on a convenient plan of payment if desired.
